In Negotiations With West

Soviets May Expand Plan On Berlin As 'Free City'

BERLIN (AP)—A Soviet spokesman said today the Kremlin's plan to make West Berlin a free, demilitarized city might be "expanded and changed" during negotiations with the Western powers.

The statement came amid Western suggestions that the Soviet drive to get the Allies out of West Berlin should be used as the basis for broad discussions of German reunification — the problem lying at the heart of the current crisis.

A spokesman for the Soviet Embassy in East Berlin indicated the Russians may take a flexible attitude during the six months of negotiations they have proclaimed before trying singlehanded to end the four-power occupation of Berlin. He said he did not regard initial Western reaction to Soviet Premier Khrushchev's plan as a rejection.

Lord Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin advised the Allies to deal with the problem of uniting Communist East Germany with free West Germany rather than just reacting to the Moscow plan.

British diplomats in London also suggested yet another round of reunification talks, possibly by foreign ministers of the West and Russia or even by heads of government.

The subject probably was discussed in Bonn, the West German capital, where the three Western ambassadors were called to the Foreign Office. David K. E. Bruce of the United States, Sir Christopher Steel of Britain and Francois Seydoux of France conferred with Dep. Foreign Minister Hilger Van Scherpenberg. Details were not revealed.

Bonn's opposition Socialist party said the Berlin crisis had opened the whole German problem. A spokesman in Bonn agreed with Brandt, a Socialist, that a broad Western response was needed.

Bruce and Seydoux will come to Berlin Sunday to talk with Brandt. Gen. H. I. Hodes, commander of the U.S. Army in Europe, arrived by special train today in what was called a routine visit to see a service football game, but he scheduled for Sunday one of his rare news conferences.

Brandt urged Friday night that the Western powers counter Soviet Premier Khrushchev's plan to neutralize West Berlin in six months, with broad proposals on German unification. The West ought to act quickly because the Soviets "may put on pressure before the end of the six-month period," he said.

The dynamic Socialist mayor of 2,200,000 West Berliners who live 110 miles behind the Iron Curtain made his comments to foreign correspondents. He spoke after receiving firm assurances from many Western leaders of support against the Soviet demand.

Diplomatic reports indicate the Western Big Three will reject Khrushchev's ultimatum — which the Soviet boss denies is an ultimatum. Foreign ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization meet in Paris Dec. 16-18 and probably will work out the Western reply.

Khrushchev said Thursday West Berlin should be turned into a "demilitarized free city." He wants the 9,000 U.S., British and French troops here to withdraw while Communist East German troops and Soviet soldiers in the satellite state continue to surround the anti-Communist city.

Vice President Nixon of the United States, supporting Brandt's view, told newsmen in London Friday that "we already have two Germanys" and Khrushchev's plan "would give us three. It would only make the situation worse."

If the West fails to accept the Soviet plan, Khrushchev said, Russia will give East Germany control of supply lines to West Berlin. Any military action against East Germany—apparently including any Western effort to force through convoys to Berlin—would be treated as aggression against the entire Communist bloc, he declared.

Nonstriking Airlines Set For Surge Of Passengers

By The Associated Press

The country's airlines, their carrying capacity crippled by strikes, braced themselves today for an expected surge of passengers homeward bound after the long Thanksgiving weekend.

Eastern and Trans World Airlines, third and fourth largest in the nation in passenger miles flown annually, have been grounded by walkouts. The nation's largest line, American, still is flying under the shadow of a threatened strike that was delayed by a court order.

Some 6,700 members of the International Assn. of Machinists struck TWA a week ago Friday, and the line's 200 passenger planes were grounded Monday.

Also Monday, 550 members of the Flight Engineers International Assn. and 5,500 IAM mechanics struck Eastern, grounding 188 planes.

The two strikes threw about 35,000 employes out of work.

Wednesday night the twin strike snarled holiday travel and diverted thousands of airline passengers to bus and rail lines. But on Thanksgiving Day, a midholiday lull settled in, and the airlines still operating were easily able to take up the slack created by the walkouts.

At American Airlines, the company Friday night offered to sit down "anywhere and anytime" with the Air Line Pilots Assn. to try to settle differences without a strike. A union spokesman said the company offer sounded like "a public relations maneuver."

The offer came after U.S. Dist. Court Judge Frederick VanPelt Bryan tongue-lashed both the association and the line as he issued an extension on a strike-restraining order. The order would have expired at 11:59 p.m. Friday. The extension is good until Monday.

Judge Bryan became angry when he learned that neither side had met Wednesday as he had instructed them to do. Instead, the two sides had become involved in a dispute over where the meeting was to take place.

Based On Present Margin

Democrats Predict They'll Control Senate Until 1963

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic campaign strategists said today their margin of Senate control is so great it is highly unlikely the Republicans could overturn it before 1963.

They added a strong GOP tide would have to be running both in the 1960 and 1962 elections to give the Republicans a chance of taking over Senate leadership even four years hence.

The addition this week of two more Democratic senators from Alaska swelled further the confidence already expressed along those lines by the party's campaign leaders.

The Alaska sweep gave the Democrats 64 senators as against 34 for the Republicans, just two shy of two-thirds.

Although the new Congress will not take office until January, the Senate campaign committees of both parties already are beginning to make their estimates and plans for the congressional voting in 1960.

Unlike 1958, the Democrats will have many more seats at stake in the 32 Senate contests two years hence. But even so, the mathematics of the situation remains favorable to the Democrats.

Of the 21 majority party seats that will be at stake in 1960, 10 are in Southern states where the Republicans often do not even make nominations. Three others are in border states — West Virginia, Oklahoma and New Mexico — which most often are Democratic.

Thus the Democratic strategists argue that they have only eight seats which are in the doubtful column in the next election.

If they should lose all these they still would have 56 senators in the 87th Congress, or six more than enough for control.

On the other hand, the Democratic campaign leaders say that every one of the 11 GOP seats to be contested in 1960 is a battleground. They do concede that Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine) will be hard to beat although they captured the other Senate seat in her state this year with Gov. Edmund S. Muskie and won the governorship.

Republican campaign officials say they naturally will concentrate on the eight Northern and Western Democratic seats next time, and declare they expect to win some of them. They say it is too early to pinpoint their best prospects.

Justice Frankfurter Reported 'Progressing'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter was reported today "progressing fine" after "a very good night" at George Washington University Hospital. He is being treated for a mild heart disturbance.

Frankfurter's office added that he was resting comfortably. The peppery little justice was reported in good spirits.

Yule Parade Canceled By Snowstorm

The city's annual Christmas Parade, scheduled this afternoon, was canceled after the firm providing the huge balloon figures advised the Chamber of Commerce it would be unable to reach East Liverpool as a result of the heavy snowstorm.

E. R. Chandler, secretary of the Chamber, announced the cancelation at midmorning after he was advised by Jean Gros, the promoter, he was unable to move his equipment from near Harrisburg last night with all roads snowbound.

As the storm developed Friday, the parade concern advised the Chamber the truck drivers were encountering freezing rain on top of the snow and this morning it was confirmed that they could not make East Liverpool.

The firm works on such a tight schedule it was impossible to obtain the equipment for another date. If any Christmas program is held, it will be of a local nature, Chandler said.

Midland Retailers Will Reset Parade

Midland's parade to open the Christmas shopping season and Santa's visit scheduled Friday were canceled due to the heavy snow fall, Don Green of the Retail Division of the Chamber of Commerce said today.

Christmas lighting, however, was turned on. The division will meet Monday to decide upon another date for the parade and Santa's trip, he said.

No Sun In London

LONDON (AP) — Britain's Air Ministry confirmed a fact that hardly needed confirming today. The last time Londoners saw the sun, the ministry said, was 13 days ago — and even then it was blotted out by fog after three hours.

Cold Wave Expected To Follow Snow

Mercury Slated To Drop Tonight To Between 8 And 14

The Ohio Valley, reeling under the heaviest snow in eight years, braced itself for a new onslaught of winter-like weather with a cold wave expected to drop the mercury into the sub-freezing range of 8 to 14 degrees tonight.

Temperatures that cold will preserve the near-record November snowfall that ranged up to 7 inches in the valley and from 8 to 9 inches in rural sections of Columbiana, Hancock and Beaver Counties.

The surprise snowstorm — flurries had been predicted — nearly paralyzed traffic through the Tri-State area despite a long battle by highway crews to keep roads open.

The snow fell continuously for exactly 24 hours, tapering off late Friday then growing heavy frequently during the night. It began shortly after 4 a. m. yesterday and Dam 8 said it ended at 4:30 a. m. today.

The traffic snarl began to develop as the snow accumulated yesterday and at times hundreds of cars and trucks were tied up on slick grades.

An East Liverpool motorist reported an estimated 100 trucks and rigs stalled, some jacknifed, in the Rogers vicinity late yesterday.

Accidents were at a minimum mainly because traffic was reduced to a crawl.

The city's worst tieups occured late in the afternoon on both ends of Route 30 and especially at the approach to the Chester bridge.

R-R-R-R-eally Big Snow Occurred 8 Years Ago

To settle any arguments that might arise, it was on Friday, Nov. 24, 1950, that the city saw the start of its worst snowstorm in the then 58 years of recorded weather data in Columbiana County.

The Review, on Saturday, Nov. 25, of that year headlined the situation as follows: "It's 24 Inches Deep Now—And That Ain't All!"

About 36 inches fell before the storm abated.

'Beast' Negotiates Flight In About 30 Minutes After Firing

WASHINGTON (AP)—A mighty Atlas missile streaked 6,325 miles from Florida to a target in the south Atlantic Friday night, showing the world the United States has a fully operational intercontinental ballistic missile.

The feat put the U.S. on a par with Russia which has claimed possession of an ICBM.

The "beast," as the Atlas is nicknamed, sped the distance in only about 30 minutes after roaring away from the Cape Canaveral launching pad.

Announcement that the missile was "successfully test fired for the first time over the full intercontinental range" was made this morning by the Defense Department after a check on data from observers and recording devices spotted along the missile's path.

Later an Air Force spokesman said the missile hit a designated target area after its long roaring flight across the south Atlantic. He added that "all test objectives were achieved essentially 100 per cent." The size of the target area was not disclosed.

The missile's silvertipped nose cone — which in event of war would be a nuclear warhead — dropped into the south Atlantic near Ascension Island.

The huge rocket sped into the Florida sky like a flaming meteor Friday night and remained visible for nearly four minutes as it cuved gracefully into the path through the higher atmosphere to its target.

But, despite the very apparent success of the launching at 9:27 p.m., the Defense Department and Air Force waited until today to be absolutely certain before announcing results of the shot.

The Convair Division of the General Dynamics Corp., builder of the Atlas, claimed success of the flight shortly after the launching.

The Defense Department announcement of the firing said:

"The Department of Defense has announced that the Atlas ICBM launched last night was successfully test fired for the first time over the full intercontinental range, a distance of approximately 5,500 nautical miles. (6,325 statute miles.)

"The missile was fired over the Atlantic missile range from Cape Canaveral, Fla., at 9:27 p. m. EST Friday.

"The missile was powered for this significant flight by its three engine cluster.

"Prior successfull firings, all at less than the full range, but employing all three engines were on Aug. 2, Aug. 28, Sept. 14, and Nov. 17.

"Last night's test came less than a year after the first successful flight of the Atlas, made last Dec. 17, when the test vehicle went slightly more than 500 miles."

Electronic recording devices spotted on a number of islands and ships showed the progress of the missile over its range. Near Ascention Island, ships and aircraft on patrol watched for the impact of the nose cone.

The successful flight matched Russia's claim of possession of an intercontinental bombing missile.

Russia is believed to have developed an operational ICBM and to have used it in launching the Sputniks.

The Atlas blasted off at 9:27 p.m. Friday night. Its exhaust flames cast a dazzling white light over the Florida coast, and for a moment it dimmed a great orange moon that hung nearly full over the firing range.

It appeared to be a perfect launching. "The Beast," as the Atlas is known, curved beautifully away on its thundering course toward the southeast and was in view four minutes before its fuel burned out and its light vanished high in the sky.

Woman Clings Beneath Auto For Half Block

Motorist Unaware He Hit Victim And Then Dragged Her

Mrs. Grace Frazier, 1185 Lisbon St., was admitted to City Hospital this morning with injuries received when dragged for half a block after being hit by a car whose driver was unaware of the mishap.

The manager of the Arlene Shop, Mrs. Frazier was struck by a sedan operated by Nick Wimmer, 66, of 919 McKinnon Ave. about 9:10 a. m. while she was crossing west on Market St. at E. 5th St.

Mrs. Frazier received lacerations, contusions, a possible fractured nose and was X-rayed for hip, rib and leg injuries.

Police said Mrs. Frazier clung to the front bumper of the car until it reached Diamond Alley where she lost her grip and the car apparently passed over her.

Wimmer continued to the traffic signal at E. 6th St. and St. Clair Ave. unaware of the mishap until halted by pedestrians. He told police he made the turn from E. 5th St. onto Market St. but didn't see the pedestrian.

Temporary Halt Set In Midland Bus Runs

Effective Monday, bus service between East Liverpool and Midland will be discontinued temporarily, Andrew Holtz, operator of the Holtz Transportation Co., announced today.

Holtz said the service will be resumed when proper insurance can be obtained. He said his firm changed insurance companies and he didn't learn until it was too late that the new insurance firm is not authorized to write insurance in Pennsylvania.

On the East End run to Putnam St., service will be on a half-hour basis between 5 and 9 a. m. and from 3 to 6 p. m. Between 9 a. m. and 3 p. m., buses will run hourly, he said.

The Wellsville schedule will remain the same, Holtz said.

The Inter - City Transit Co. will take over the Pleasant Heights service from Holtz on Monday.

Man Who Fell During Snow Listed 'Poor'

An East End man is in "poor" condition today from exposure after being found in deep snow on Clark St. late Friday night.

Richard Duncan, 58, of Clark St. was admitted to City Hospital about 2 a. m. after police and ambulance attendants labored for about two hours in reaching Duncan and bringing him back to an ambulance.

Police received a call from Jerry Anderson of Clark St. at 11:50 p. m. that a man had been found lying in the middle of the road.

Reports indicate Duncan was found by two boys who dragged him to a house and then notified police. Officers summoned an ambulance from the Martin Funeral Home.

The men had to walk back on Clark St., located between Dewey and Harker Aves. just below the Dixonville Hill, and then carry Duncan back to the ambulance. The ambulance left for the hospital at 1:42 a. m.

City Autoist Jailed And Handed $100 Fine

A city motorist was sentenced to 10 days in jail and fined $100 and cost today in Municipal Court after being convicted of driving while his license was suspended.

The penalty was handed to Charles White of Shadyside Ave. on a charge filed by the State Highway Patrol after a wreck Nov. 7 in which a passenger in White's car was hurt.

Court records show White's operator's permit was suspended for a year March 1 after he was arrested for drunken driving, his third offense.

The Beaver County Grand Jury will convene Monday at Beaver for the December term of court with some 60 cases on the docket.

This is the first term in several with no murder cases. Mrs. Hester Potts of Midland is among 24 prospective jurors.

Cunningham Hospitalized; Trial In Doubt

Defense Will Seek Delay With Case Scheduled Monday

Ira Cunningham, ex - police officer slated to face re - trial Monday for a 1952 burglary, was hospitalized Friday night at Wheeling which probably will cause a postponement of the case.

Atty. Hugo Alexander of Steubenville, defense counsel, said today Cunningham was admitted to the Ohio Valley General Hospital to be examined by a neurologist.

Alexander said he has prepared a motion asking for a delay in the trial. It was mailed to Lisbon although the court probably will not receive it today. Judge Raymond Buzzard must rule on the motion, after which the trial step will be decided.

The ex-policeman collapsed on the street at Steubenville Monday and was since kept at home under the care of a physician. Atty. Alexander advised Prosecutor G. William Brokaw Friday Cunningham has suffered a lapse of memory regarding events of the past few weeks and earlier in some cases.

The attorney said he had already obtained the services of a Wheeling neurologist, at the recommendation of the family physician, and was making arrangements to have Cunningham admitted to the Wheeling hospital.

Cunningham and Jerry Raimond, an ex - special officer, were convicted last week of a 1952 burglary of the Burbick Hardware store. Robert Carroll, ex - officer, was acquitted by the Common Pleas Court jury in the same trial.

The re - called September Grand Jury, which investigated contacts with jurors during the trial in a one - day session Tuesday, returned an indictment against Cunningham for attempting to influence a prospective juror.

In Negotiations With West

Soviets May Expand Plan On Berlin As 'Free City'

BERLIN (AP)—A Soviet spokesman said today the Kremlin's plan to make West Berlin a free, demilitarized city might be "expanded and changed" during negotiations with the Western powers.

The statement came amid Western suggestions that the Soviet drive to get the Allies out of West Berlin should be used as the basis for broad discussions of German reunification — the problem lying at the heart of the current crisis.

A spokesman for the Soviet Embassy in East Berlin indicated the Russians may take a flexible attitude during the six months of negotiations they have proclaimed before trying singlehanded to end the four-power occupation of Berlin. He said he did not regard initial Western reaction to Soviet Premier Khrushchev's plan as a rejection.

Lord Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin advised the Allies to deal with the problem of uniting Communist East Germany with free West Germany rather than just reacting to the Moscow plan.

British diplomats in London also suggested yet another round of reunification talks, possibly by foreign ministers of the West and Russia or even by heads of government.

The subject probably was discussed in Bonn, the West German capital, where the three Western ambassadors were called to the Foreign Office. David K. E. Bruce of the United States, Sir Christopher Steel of Britain and Francois Seydoux of France conferred with Dep. Foreign Minister Hilger Van Scherpenberg. Details were not revealed.

Bonn's opposition Socialist party said the Berlin crisis had opened the whole German problem. A spokesman in Bonn agreed with Brandt, a Socialist, that a broad Western response was needed.

Bruce and Seydoux will come to Berlin Sunday to talk with Brandt. Gen. H. I. Hodes, commander of the U.S. Army in Europe, arrived by special train today in what was called a routine visit to see a service football game, but he scheduled for Sunday one of his rare news conferences.

Brandt urged Friday night that the Western powers counter Soviet Premier Khrushchev's plan to neutralize West Berlin in six months, with broad proposals on German unification. The West ought to act quickly because the Soviets "may put on pressure before the end of the six-month period," he said.

The dynamic Socialist mayor of 2,200,000 West Berliners who live 110 miles behind the Iron Curtain made his comments to foreign correspondents. He spoke after receiving firm assurances from many Western leaders of support against the Soviet demand.

Diplomatic reports indicate the Western Big Three will reject Khrushchev's ultimatum — which the Soviet boss denies is an ultimatum. Foreign ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization meet in Paris Dec. 16-18 and probably will work out the Western reply.

Khrushchev said Thursday West Berlin should be turned into a "demilitarized free city." He wants the 9,000 U.S., British and French troops here to withdraw while Communist East German troops and Soviet soldiers in the satellite state continue to surround the anti-Communist city.

Vice President Nixon of the United States, supporting Brandt's view, told newsmen in London Friday that "we already have two Germanys" and Khrushchev's plan "would give us three. It would only make the situation worse."

If the West fails to accept the Soviet plan, Khrushchev said, Russia will give East Germany control of supply lines to West Berlin. Any military action against East Germany—apparently including any Western effort to force through convoys to Berlin —would be treated as aggression against the entire Communist bloc, he declared.

Police received a call from Jerry Anderson of Clark St. at 11:50 p. m. that a man had been found lying in the middle of the road.

Reports indicate Duncan was found by two boys who dragged him to a house and then notified police. Officers summoned an ambulance from the Martin Funeral Home.

The men had to walk back on Clark St., located between Dewey and Harker Aves. just below the Dixonville Hill, and then carry Duncan back to the ambulance. The ambulance left for the hospital at 1:42 a. m.

City Autoist Jailed And Handed $100 Fine

A city motorist was sentenced to 10 days in jail and fined $100 and cost today in Municipal Court after being convicted of driving while his license was suspended.

The penalty was handed to Charles White of Shadyside Ave. on a charge filed by the State Highway Patrol after a wreck Nov. 7 in which a passenger in White's car was hurt.

Court records show White's operator's permit was suspended for a year March 1 after he was arrested for drunken driving, his third offense.

Temporary Halt Set In Midland Bus Runs

Effective Monday, bus service between East Liverpool and Midland will be discontinued temporarily, Andrew Holtz, operator of the Holtz Transportation Co., announced today.

Holtz said the service will be resumed when proper insurance can be obtained. He said his firm changed insurance companies and he didn't learn until it was too late that the new insurance firm is not authorized to write insurance in Pennsylvania.

On the East End run to Putnam St., service will be on a half-hour basis between 5 and 9 a. m. and from 3 to 6 p. m. Between 9 a. m. and 3 p. m., buses will run hourly, he said.

The Wellsville schedule will remain the same, Holtz said.

The Inter - City Transit Co. will take over the Pleasant Heights service from Holtz on Monday.

Defense Will Seek Delay With Case Scheduled Monday

Ira Cunningham, ex - police officer slated to face re - trial Monday for a 1952 burglary, was hospitalized Friday night at Wheeling which probably will cause a postponement of the case.

Atty. Hugo Alexander of Steubenville, defense counsel, said today Cunningham was admitted to the Ohio Valley General Hospital to be examined by a neurologist.

Alexander said he has prepared a motion asking for a delay in the trial. It was mailed to Lisbon although the court probably will not receive it today. Judge Raymond Buzzard must rule on the motion, after which the trial step will be decided.

The ex-policeman collapsed on the street at Steubenville Monday and was since kept at home under the care of a physician. Atty. Alexander advised Prosecutor G. William Brokaw Friday Cunningham has suffered a lapse of memory regarding events of the past few weeks and earlier in some cases.

The attorney said he had already obtained the services of a Wheeling neurologist, at the recommendation of the family physician, and was making arrangements to have Cunningham admitted to the Wheeling hospital.

Cunningham and Jerry Raimond, an ex - special officer, were convicted last week of a 1952 burglary of the Burbick Hardware store. Robert Carroll, ex - officer, was acquitted by the Common Pleas Court jury in the same trial.

The re - called September Grand Jury, which investigated contacts with jurors during the trial in a one - day session Tuesday, returned an indictment against Cunningham for attempting to influence a prospective juror.

Based On Present Margin

Democrats Predict They'll Control Senate Until 1963

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic campaign strategists said today their margin of Senate control is so great it is highly unlikely the Republicans could overturn it before 1963.

They added a strong GOP tide would have to be running both in the 1960 and 1962 elections to give the Republicans a chance of taking over Senate leadership even four years hence.

The addition this week of two more Democratic senators from Alaska swelled further the confidence already expressed along those lines by the party's campaign leaders.

The Alaska sweep gave the Democrats 64 senators as against 34 for the Republicans, just two shy of two-thirds.

Although the new Congress will not take office until January, the Senate campaign committees of both parties already are beginning to make their estimates and plans for the congressional voting in 1960.

Unlike 1958, the Democrats will have many more seats at stake in the 32 Senate contests two years hence. But even so, the mathematics of the situation remains favorable to the Democrats.

Of the 21 majority party seats that will be at stake in 1960, 10 are in Southern states where the Republicans often do not even make nominations. Three others are in border states — West Virginia, Oklahoma and New Mexico — which most often are Democratic.

Thus the Democratic strategists argue that they have only eight seats which are in the doubtful column in the next election.

If they should lose all these they still would have 56 senators in the 87th Congress, or six more than enough for control.

On the other hand, the Democratic campaign leaders say that every one of the 11 GOP seats to be contested in 1960 is a battleground. They do concede that Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine) will be hard to beat although they captured the other Senate seat in her state this year with Gov. Edmund S. Muskie and won the governorship.

Republican campaign officials say they naturally will concentrate on the eight Northern and Western Democratic seats next time, and declare they expect to win some of them. They say it is too early to pinpoint their best prospects.

Justice Frankfurter Reported 'Progressing'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter was reported today "progressing fine" after "a very good night" at George Washington University Hospital. He is being treated for a mild heart disturbance.

Frankfurter's office added that he was resting comfortably. The peppery little justice was reported in good spirits.

Yule Parade Canceled By Snowstorm

The city's annual Christmas Parade, scheduled this afternoon, was canceled after the firm providing the huge balloon figures advised the Chamber of Commerce it would be unable to reach East Liverpool as a result of the heavy snowstorm.

E. R. Chandler, secretary of the Chamber, announced the cancelation at midmorning after he was advised by Jean Gros, the promoter, he was unable to move his equipment from near Harrisburg last night with all roads snowbound.

As the storm developed Friday, the parade concern advised the Chamber the truck drivers were encountering freezing rain on top of the snow and this morning it was confirmed that they could not make East Liverpool.

The firm works on such a tight schedule it was impossible to obtain the equipment for another date. If any Christmas program is held, it will be of a local nature, Chandler said.

Midland Retailers Will Reset Parade

Midland's parade to open the Christmas shopping season and Santa's visit scheduled Friday were canceled due to the heavy snow fall, Don Green of the Retail Division of the Chamber of Commerce said today.

Christmas lighting, however, was turned on. The division will meet Monday to decide upon another date for the parade and Santa's trip, he said.

City To Close Four Streets For Sledding

Four streets in the downtown, Pleasant Heights and Beechwood areas will be barricaded for five hours daily, effective today, for sledriding, Safety - Service Director Dan Maggianetti announced.

Maggianetti said the streets will be closed to traffic except for emergency vehicles between 4 and 9 p. m. as long as the snow remains.

The streets are Vernia St. between Maine Blvd. and Rubicon St., Sanford St. between Lisbon and Dakota Sts., and Ravine St. from Thompson Ave. to Bradshaw Ave., the director said.

The city also will block off Lansdowne St. between Ridgeway Ave. and W. 9th St., the director said.

He urged residents of the streets to cooperate with youngsters and asked sledders to exercise caution and to get off the streets in event of emergencies.

Sledriding also is permitted in Thompson Park until curfew hour, the director said.

Miss Anna E. Robinson, 934 Lincoln Ave., died at 12:50 a. m. today at the Ohio Valley Nursing Home after a lingering illness. She was 73.

She was a former employe of the Homer Laughlin China Co. and a member of the First Church of Christ and the IBOP.

Born in East Liverpool, she was the daughter of late Emily and Frank Horton Robinson.

She is survived by two brothers, Frank K. Robinson and Harold T. Robinson of East Liverpool.

John Mostoller, minister of the First Church of Christ, assisted by the Rev. T. Park Chapman, former pastor, will conduct services at the Dawson Funeral Home at 2 p. m. Monday.

Burial will be in Riverview Cemetery.

Friends may call Sunday afternoon and evening at the funeral home.

Mrs Mary Thorne

LISBON—Mrs. Mary Theodore Thorne, 90, died at the home of her son, Lodge Thorne, 331 S. Lincoln Ave., Friday at 6:30 p. m. after a four-week illness.

Born May 22, 1868, in La Crosse, Wis., a daughter of J. W. and Elizabeth Parson Marshall, she spent most of her lifetime in Columbiana County. Her husband, W. T. Thorne, died in January 1933.

She was a member of the Highlandtown Methodist Church.

Mrs. Thorne is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Grafton of Jacksonville, Fla., Mrs. Blanche Black of Wellsville R. D. 1 and Mrs. Euella Johnson of Steubenville; two other sons, Theodore Thorne of Salem and Bruce Thorne of Salineville R. D. 1, and 23 grandchildren and 25 great-grandchildren.

Services will be conducted Monday at 1:30 p. m. at the Eells-Leggett Funeral Home by the Rev. John J. Bolyard. Burial will be in Highlandtown Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m.

Weather

night and some resumed this morning in ashing and salting streets and clearing crosswalks in the downtown area.

The city's highlift and a truck broke down during the work and a lift had to be hired from a private source to aid in snow clearance, Safety - Service Director Dan Maggianetti said.

The city's lift will be out of service until a replacement part can be secured from Cleveland, but the truck is expected back in operation today, the director said.

Street employes were shoveling snow from crosswalks this morning and grades were being ashed.

Traffic piled up in the downtown area late yesterday afternoon with tieups blocking many intersections. Cars moved slowly on Webber Way between W. 8th St. and Dresden Ave. and there also was a tieup on the E. 5th St. hill.

St. Clair Ave. traffic moved slowly but a scraper cleared the long grade to enable traffic to continue moving.

Maggianetti said motorists will be expected to park their cars legally when the weather breaks.

Safety - service Director William S. Robinson said Wellsville's streets still were slippery in spots. The street department crews were working today spreading cinders. The men worked until 11:30 p.m. Friday in an attempt to keep the streets passable, Robinson said.

Dozens of highway crews began the battle with cinder trucks then returned to garages for snow plow attachments as the fall deepened throughout the day with no sign of a letup. It fell steadily until darkness, tapered into flurries, then became dense again.

All 18 crews of the State Highway Department garage at Leetonia worked without letup through 1 a. m. today, then resumed the battle at 6.

E. O. Harsh, supervisor, said plowing began about noon yesterday as the snow deepened to a point where cinders were useless. Some 15 trucks plowed lanes on the main roads, followed by long lines of slowly-moving cars and trucks.

Blustery winds last night caused new drifting, especially on secondary roads which ordinarily are left to the last as the crews aim at keeping the main arteries open.

John Niell, supervisor of the County Highway Department at Lisbon, said road crews worked steadily until 2 a. m. today and returned to the icy highways at 7:30.

He reported most county roads had been plowed by last night but the overnight winds caused new drifting.

He predicted the county highway system will be in good condition by late this afternoon—if there is no more snow. Only flurries are forecast for the next 24 hours but they will be heavy at times.

The Lisbon State Highway Patrol reported the highways were starting to clear somewhat although still "hazardous."

Four fender - benders and several traffic tieups were reported Friday, officers said.

A car driven by Laird O'Hanlon, 16, of 818 Cadmus St. backed into another driven by David Tice, 24, of R. D. 2 on Route 267 about two and a half miles north of East Liverpool yesterday morning at 9:50.

O'Hanlon was stalled on a hill and was backing down when he ran into Tice, officers said. O'Hanlon was cited.

The other minor accidents were in the northern section of the county.

Traffic was blocked on Rogers Hill from 2 to 11 p. m. Major tieups also were reported in California Hollow and on the Cannons Mill Hill, the patrol said.

The West Virginia Road Commission's garage at Pughtown had five crews on the job yesterday and some worked through the night. They used plow blades in the afternoon to cut through the mounting snow. They were cindering this morning.

Supervisors reported roads in "fair" shape today but State Highway Patrol stations said driving conditions still were hazardous as ice developed over the packed snow.

State Highway Department crews in Jefferson County were out all night cindering and salting hills and curves and using scrapers to clear drifts.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol near Steubenville reported all highways snow covered and slippery.

Edwin Copeland, U. S. weather observer at Millport, reported an official 8-inch accumulation on the ground. About 9-inches fell, though as part of it melted, he said.

Heart Attack Takes Harry M. Prescott

Harry M. Prescott, a retired pottery foreman, was pronounced dead on arrival at City Hospital after suffering a heart attack in his home at 739 St. Clair Ave. Friday about 11:30 a. m. He was 69.

Mr. Prescott had been ill about five years. City firemen were called at 11:48 a. m. to administer oxygen before he was taken to the hospital. Police helped escort the Martin Funeral Home ambulance through traffic.

Mr. Prescott was born in New Cumberland. He resided in East Liverpool about 51 years. He was a foreman of Homer Laughlin China Co. Plant 4, retiring 4 years ago after 37 years service. He was an honorary member of the IBOP and a member of the Calcutta Grange.

Survivors include a son, Leonard Prescott, and three brothers, R. F. Prescott, William L. Prescott and Clyde B. Prescott, all of East Liverpool, and two grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

His wife, Etha L. Prescott, died Sept. 2.

Services will be held Monday at 2 p. m. at the Martin Funeral Home by Capt. William Prescott of the Salvation Army at Altoona. Burial will be in Calcutta United Presbyterian Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday afternoon and night.

Edward Crawford

Edward H. Crawford, 87, formerly of Williamsport, died Thursday afternoon at Massillon State Hospital.

He was born Sept. 25, 1871, in Williamsport, the son of William and Elizabeth Crawford.

Survivors include a son, Samuel Crawford of East Liverpool; a brother, Philander Crawford of Williamsport, and several grandchildren. Two sisters and two brothers preceded him in death.

Services will be held Sunday at 3:30 p. m. at Warrick's Funeral Home in Columbiana by the Rev. C. E. Richardson of the New Waterford Methodist Church. Burial will be in Clarkson Cemetery.

Friends may call tonight from 7 to 9 at the funeral home.

Mrs. Kathryn Callahan

Services will be held at the Dawson Funeral Home at 10:30 a. m. Monday for Mrs. Kathryn Dorff Callahan of Peach Alley, who died Friday.

John Mostoller, minister of the First Church of Christ, will officiate.

Burial will be in Spring Grove Cemetery.

Miss Anna Robinson

Miss Anna E. Robinson, 934 Lincoln Ave., died at 12:50 a. m. today at the Ohio Valley Nursing Home after a lingering illness. She was 73.

She was a former employe of the Homer Laughlin China Co. and a member of the First Church of Christ and the IBOP.

Born in East Liverpool, she was the daughter of late Emily and Frank Horton Robinson.

She is survived by two brothers, Frank K. Robinson and Harold T. Robinson of East Liverpool.

John Mostoller, minister of the First Church of Christ, assisted by the Rev. T. Park Chapman, former pastor, will conduct services at the Dawson Funeral Home at 2 p. m. Monday.

Burial will be in Riverview Cemetery.

Friends may call Sunday afternoon and evening at the funeral home.

Mrs Mary Thorne

LISBON—Mrs. Mary Theodore Thorne, 90, died at the home of her son, Lodge Thorne, 331 S. Lincoln Ave., Friday at 6:30 p. m. after a four-week illness.

Born May 22, 1868, in La Crosse, Wis., a daughter of J. W. and Elizabeth Parson Marshall, she spent most of her lifetime in Columbiana County. Her husband, W. T. Thorne, died in January 1933.

She was a member of the Highlandtown Methodist Church.

Mrs. Thorne is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Grafton of Jacksonville, Fla., Mrs. Blanche Black of Wellsville R. D. 1 and Mrs. Euella Johnson of Steubenville; two other sons, Theodore Thorne of Salem and Bruce Thorne of Salineville R. D. 1, and 23 grandchildren and 25 great-grandchildren.

Services will be conducted Monday at 1:30 p. m. at the Eells-Leggett Funeral Home by the Rev. John J. Bolyard. Burial will be in Highlandtown Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m.

night and some resumed this morning in ashing and salting streets and clearing crosswalks in the downtown area.

The city's highlift and a truck broke down during the work and a lift had to be hired from a private source to aid in snow clearance, Safety - Service Director Dan Maggianetti said.

The city's lift will be out of service until a replacement part can be secured from Cleveland, but the truck is expected back in operation today, the director said.

Street employes were shoveling snow from crosswalks this morning and grades were being ashed.

Traffic piled up in the downtown area late yesterday afternoon with tieups blocking many intersections. Cars moved slowly on Webber Way between W. 8th St. and Dresden Ave. and there also was a tieup on the E. 5th St. hill.

St. Clair Ave. traffic moved slowly but a scraper cleared the long grade to enable traffic to continue moving.

Maggianetti said motorists will be expected to park their cars legally when the weather breaks.

Safety - service Director William S. Robinson said Wellsville's streets still were slippery in spots. The street department crews were working today spreading cinders. The men worked until 11:30 p.m. Friday in an attempt to keep the streets passable, Robinson said.

Dozens of highway crews began the battle with cinder trucks then returned to garages for snow plow attachments as the fall deepened throughout the day with no sign of a letup. It fell steadily until darkness, tapered into flurries, then became dense again.

All 18 crews of the State Highway Department garage at Leetonia worked without letup through 1 a. m. today, then resumed the battle at 6.

E. O. Harsh, supervisor, said plowing began about noon yesterday as the snow deepened to a point where cinders were useless. Some 15 trucks plowed lanes on the main roads, followed by long lines of slowly-moving cars and trucks.

Blustery winds last night caused new drifting, especially on secondary roads which ordinarily are left to the last as the crews aim at keeping the main arteries open.

John Niell, supervisor of the County Highway Department at Lisbon, said road crews worked steadily until 2 a. m. today and returned to the icy highways at 7:30.

He reported most county roads had been plowed by last night but the overnight winds caused new drifting.

He predicted the county highway system will be in good condition by late this afternoon—if there is no more snow. Only flurries are forecast for the next 24 hours but they will be heavy at times.

The Lisbon State Highway Patrol reported the highways were starting to clear somewhat although still "hazardous."

Four fender - benders and several traffic tieups were reported Friday, officers said.

A car driven by Laird O'Hanlon, 16, of 818 Cadmus St. backed into another driven by David Tice, 24, of R. D. 2 on Route 267 about two and a half miles north of East Liverpool yesterday morning at 9:50.

O'Hanlon was stalled on a hill and was backing down when he ran into Tice, officers said. O'Hanlon was cited.

The other minor accidents were in the northern section of the county.

Traffic was blocked on Rogers Hill from 2 to 11 p. m. Major tieups also were reported in California Hollow and on the Cannons Mill Hill, the patrol said.

The West Virginia Road Commission's garage at Pughtown had five crews on the job yesterday and some worked through the night. They used plow blades in the afternoon to cut through the mounting snow. They were cindering this morning.

Supervisors reported roads in "fair" shape today but State Highway Patrol stations said driving conditions still were hazardous as ice developed over the packed snow.

State Highway Department crews in Jefferson County were out all night cindering and salting hills and curves and using scrapers to clear drifts.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol near Steubenville reported all highways snow covered and slippery.

Edwin Copeland, U. S. weather observer at Millport, reported an official 8-inch accumulation on the ground. About 9-inches fell, though as part of it melted, he said.

Dinner To Be Held Dec. 7

Jewish Charity Drive Set

The annual fund drive will be launched when the East Liverpool Federation of Jewish Charities holds its dinner on Dec. 7 at 6:30 p.m. in the Travelers Hotel.

Mrs. Eleanor Abrams, New York radio commentator and nationally - known lecturer and writer on Middle Eastern affairs, will speak.

Myron Weis, who will assume the duties of federation president at the meeting, and Harry Barlow will serve as co - chairmen for the campaign.

Dr. William Sulkes is the retiring president. Other officers who will be introduced and begin their duties for 1958-59 are: Alvin Fineman, vice president; Mrs. Zangwil Kamil, financial secretary; Mrs. Myron Weis, recording secretary, and Walter Solomon, treasurer. Allen E. Cohen is chairman of the auditing committee.

MRS. ELEANOR ABRAMS
Will Speak During Rally Here.

A planning meeting will be held tomorrow at 10:45 a. m. at Dr. Schoolnic's office.

The United Jewish Appeal is the principal beneficiary of the funds collected.

A special phase of the program is to provide transportation and initial resettlement aid for 80,000 Jews — men, women and children expected to leave Eastern Europe, North Africa and other areas of "tension and anxiety." Of these, federation officials said, 70,000 are expected to enter Israel, with the remainder going to South America, Canada, the United States and other countries which will accept them.

The regular UJA global program provides welfare, medical and rehabilitation services for an additional 535,000.

In addition to the UJA, the federation provides funds to 17 other philanthropic, cultural and health organizations. Among these is the National Jewish Hospital at Denver, a famed research center on tubercular and respiratory diseases. Its clientele is non-sectarian.

The Bellefaire Home at Cleveland and the Jewish Home for the Aged in Pittsburgh are among the recipients of East Liverpool funds.

Mrs. Abrams, the speaker for the Dec. 7 dinner, is thoroughly familiar with the Jewish refugee situation and problems involved in bringing immigrants to Israel and settling them in the new state.

As a result of personal surveys made on numerous visits to Europe and Israel, she will bring to her audience a firsthand report of "distressed Jews being rescued and rehabilitated," federation leaders said.

Forest Blaze Hazards Cited

Area Warden Guest Speaker For Lions

"The three main fire hazards confronting the Division of Forestry are men, women and children," Robert MacIntosh, district fire warden, told the Lions Club Friday noon at the Travelers Hotel.

Carelessness is the cause of virtually all of the nation's forest fires with only one in 10 caused by the elements, he pointed out.

Because of carelessness, the Division of Forestry was created in 1921 to save and maintain state forests. It first went into operation in the southern part of the state and then moved into this area around 1943, MacIntosh said. Its chief interest is in fire control.

Of some 26 million acres in Ohio, 25 million were in forest cover, but by early 1943 the acreage had dropped to 5 million and steps were launched to save and maintain the remainder.

Carlessly discarded cigarettes are responsible for 26 per cent of the forest fires while campfires left untended are blamed for another 16 per cent, MacIntosh said in explaining people's carelessness.

The four - county district had 145 fires between January and July with 50 reported in Columbiana County. The fires burned over 1,450 acres.

Fire wardens had a relatively easy summer and fall, the speaker continued, declaring the total number of fires between July and January probably will be less than 100.

Rain came at just the right times during the past summer to avert any major fires but the rains caused heavy undergrowth which will be a problem next spring in the dry season.

He also detailed a typical day's work during the fire season.

MacIntosh was introduced by Donald Baxter, president.

49 Years With Pennsy.

Rail Conductor Retires

John R. Fulton, 1507 Lincoln Ave., Wellsville, Friday afternoon hopped aboard a diesel train for the last time, marking the end of a 49-year career with the Pennsylvania Railroad Co.

On hand to greet Fulton, right, before his train left was Walter C. Rockey, assistant trainmaster out of Mingo Junction. He presented Fulton his retirement papers and a handshake.

Fulton, a conductor, has worked for the past several years on a switcher in the East Liverpool area. Monday will mark official day of retirement.

Fulton was born in Paris, Pa., a small settlement near Weirton. He spent his boyhood in Burgettstown and moved to Wellsville Oct. 15, 1909.

He first was employed as a brakeman on the old Cleveland & Pittsburgh Division of the Pennsy. He was promoted to conductor Feb. 28, 1913, a position he held since except for a period in the early 1920's when he served as yardmaster at Wellsville.

His wife died Sept. 15, 1957. He and his granddaughter, Janice Kaye Drummond, a student at Wellsville High School, will continue to reside in Wellsville, although he plans to spend some time this winter in Florida.

Floyd M. Barcus, 1206 Commerce St., a brakeman on the crew with Fulton, also was honored Friday. He was presented a 40-year service pin by Rockey. He completed the tenure Oct. 10.

Snow Adds Hazards On U.S. Highways

Snow and ice-covered streets added to traffic hazards today and boosted the toll in accident deaths over the Thanksgiving weekend.

Several crashes on the slippery highways were reported as the season's first major storm swirled from the Midwest into areas east of the Mississippi River.

The hazardous driving conditions, however, appeared to have cut down the volume of traffic on highways, especially in the snow-covered regions.

The Thanksgiving weekend also is not regarded as a period of extra heavy traffic such as on other major holidays.

Elias Howe, a Massachusetts machine operator, spent five years in his off-time to invent the sewing machine. That was in 1846.

Junior Red Cross Campaign Results In $364 Proceeds

The annual Junior Red Cross drive, conducted in East Liverpool public schools and the Parochial School and in Salineville schools Nov. 17-21, netted $364.80, according to Mrs. Eleanor Boice, executive secretary of the city Red Cross Chapter.

This was slightly under the $377 collected last year, Mrs. Boice said, but approximates the average proceeds.

National Red Cross Headquarters will receive $190 of the collection for fees, magazines and the children's fund and the remainder will be used for local programs, and perhaps for the installation of new first aid kits in the schools.

Mrs. F. D. Irwin is chairman of the Junior Red Cross program here.

Weather Cuts Turnout For Cossack Concert

Some 140 persons braved the snowstorm Friday night to attend the concert by the Don Cossack Chorus and Dancers at the Westgate School auditorium, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club.

Over 800 had been expected but Rowland Kaufman, chairman, said that an advance ticket sale will prevent the club from incurring a large financial loss.

He said it was an excellent concert and he regretted that many of the ticket holders were unable to attend.

Proceeds were to have been used for the club's youth projects.

Steelworkers Union To Entertain Children

Midland's United Steelworkers Local 1212 will hold its annual children's Christmas party Tuesday, Dec. 23, beginning at 2 p.m. at the Union Hall.

Santa Claus will be present, Christmas movies will be shown and there will be treats for each child. Movies will also be taken.

Crucible Opens Outlet

The Crucible Steel Co. announced the opening of a warehouse in Toledo and the appointment of J. H. Rolfe as manager. Stocking a complete line of special purpose steels, including tool steels, alloys and stainless steels, the new facility will make possible more efficient and more rapid delivery of steels to our customers in this area.

who was crossing east, saw the car and told police he called to Mrs. Frazier and to Wimmer but the motorist didn't hear him.

Four other mishaps were reported Friday, all blamed on slippery streets.

A crash at 8:02 a. m. on Market St. involved a car operated by Cynthia Ruth Cogar, 119 Washington St., and the parked car of Ralph Cunningham, 116 W. 2nd St.

The woman told police she applied her brakes to avoid a pedestrian crossing the street and her auto slid sideways into the Cunningham car.

George M. Smith, 313 Garfield St., told police his car skidded into a utility pole at Lincoln Ave. and Grant St. at 10:15 a. m. yesterday.

A collision at 10:20 a. m. on Lisbon St. involved autos operated by Della M. Caywood of Fisher Park and James H. Johnson, 1012 Lisbon St., police said.

At 6:15 p. m., a backing car operated by Richard Willshaw, 1713 Idaho Ave., struck the parked car of Joseph M. Gibas, 1015 Washington St., Newell, at Walnut St. at the entrance to the A. & P. parking lot.

Truck Skids Into Car Parked At Wellsville

A Wellsville man's parked car was damaged heavily when hit by a tractor-trailer truck which slid on the snow-covered pavement Friday at 12:25 p. m. at 3rd and Main Sts.

The truck driven by Carl J. Weyard of Beaver skidded as he was making a turn from Main onto 3rd and hit the car of George Lawton, 505 Commerce St. Lawton's car was pushed into another parked car owned by Glenn F. Williams of Akron.

Weyard was driving for the Sun Oil Co., police said.

Cars driven by Jesse A. Calhoun, 312 W. 3rd St., East Liverpool, and Leon R. Jones of Girard collided yesterday afternoon at 2:20 at 17th and Main Sts., police said. The crash was blamed on the slippery street.

Hammondsville Man Hit By Car In Storm

An elderly Hammondsville man was struck by a car during the snow storm Friday afternoon at 12:15 in Hammondsville but escaped without injury.

Charles Elliott, 89, was unhurt when hit by the car of Mrs. Carolyn Urich, 20, also of Hammondsville.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol said the woman started to pull around a car stalled on Route 213 when the mishap occurred. A mirror was broken from the car by the impact.

Trial

Riley Ave. home Wednesday to serve the indictment but were advised by the family he was ill in bed. Deputies agreed to serve the indictment later.

The ex-officer along with Carroll was to go on trial Monday for a 1952 entering of the Smith & Phillips Co. The original trial ended Oct. 31 when a Common Pleas jury was unable to reach a verdict after deliberating for more than four hours.

Cunningham was also expected to testify before the Grand Jury Tuesday, but informed county authorities he would be unable to be present.

Atty. Alexander has already filed a motion for a new trial for Cunningham and Raimond on their conviction for the Burbick burglary for which they face prison terms of 1-15 years.

The indictment returned Tuesday is based on an alleged offer by the former policeman to make up the difference in salary and jury allowance of a drugstore clerk who had been called as a prospective juror for the trial.

A tape recording of the conversation between Cunningham and Donald Lockhart of McKinnon Ave., taken Nov. 9 at McBurney's Pharmacy, was played during the trial when ended last Friday.

Couple Seeks $50,125 In Traffic Crash Case

A city couple has filed suits totaling $50,125 for damages stemming from a traffic accident on Route 30 near Canton June, 1957.

Mrs. Lucille Gosch of Curry Ln. asked $22,800 in the suit in Common Pleas Court in Stark County against William Sukosd of near Canton, claiming she was injured when a racing car towed by the defendant broke loose and struck the car driven by her husband.

Frank T. Gosch is seeking $27,325 for personal injuries, loss of services, medical expenses and property damage.

Wetzel Given Oath

LISBON — Clarence L. Wetzel, Columbiana County state representative, was sworn in Wednesday by Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard. Rep. Wetzel, Republican, was elected to his fifth term Nov. 4.

Man Hurt In Fall

LISBON — Al Rowlands, 24, of 131 Morton St. suffered a compound fracture of the lower right leg Friday at 2:30 p.m. while working at the Lisbon Diesel & Supply, Inc. Rowlands was putting insulation on the rafters when he fell to the floor. He was taken to the Salem City Hospital.

Other officers who will be introduced and begin their duties for 1958-59 are: Alvin Fineman, vice president; Mrs. Zangwil Kamil, financial secretary; Mrs. Myron Weis, recording secretary, and Walter Solomon, treasurer. Allen E. Cohen is chairman of the auditing committee.

Will Speak During Rally Here.

A planning meeting will be held tomorrow at 10:45 a. m. at Dr. Schoolnic's office.

The United Jewish Appeal is the principal beneficiary of the funds collected.

A special phase of the program is to provide transportation and initial resettlement aid for 80,000 Jews — men, women and children expected to leave Eastern Europe, North Africa and other areas of "tension and anxiety." Of these, federation officials said, 70,000 are expected to enter Israel, with the remainder going to South America, Canada, the United States and other countries which will accept them.

The regular UJA global program provides welfare, medical and rehabilitation services for an additional 535,000.

In addition to the UJA, the federation provides funds to 17 other philanthropic, cultural and health organizations. Among these is the National Jewish Hospital at Denver, a famed research center on tubercular and respiratory diseases. Its clientele is non-sectarian.

The Bellefaire Home at Cleveland and the Jewish Home for the Aged in Pittsburgh are among the recipients of East Liverpool funds.

Mrs. Abrams, the speaker for the Dec. 7 dinner, is thoroughly familiar with the Jewish refugee situation and problems involved in bringing immigrants to Israel and settling them in the new state.

As a result of personal surveys made on numerous visits to Europe and Israel, she will bring to her audience a firsthand report of "distressed Jews being rescued and rehabilitated," federation leaders said.

Forest Blaze Hazards Cited

Area Warden Guest Speaker For Lions

"The three main fire hazards confronting the Division of Forestry are men, women and children," Robert MacIntosh, district fire warden, told the Lions Club Friday noon at the Travelers Hotel.

Carelessness is the cause of virtually all of the nation's forest fires with only one in 10 caused by the elements, he pointed out.

Because of carelessness, the Division of Forestry was created in 1921 to save and maintain state forests. It first went into operation in the southern part of the state and then moved into this area around 1943, MacIntosh said. Its chief interest is in fire control.

Of some 26 million acres in Ohio, 25 million were in forest cover, but by early 1943 the acreage had dropped to 5 million and steps were launched to save and maintain the remainder.

Carlessly discarded cigarettes are responsible for 26 per cent of the forest fires while campfires left untended are blamed for another 16 per cent, MacIntosh said in explaining people's carelessness.

The four - county district had 145 fires between January and July with 50 reported in Columbiana County. The fires burned over 1,450 acres.

Fire wardens had a relatively easy summer and fall, the speaker continued, declaring the total number of fires between July and January probably will be less than 100.

Rain came at just the right times during the past summer to avert any major fires but the rains caused heavy undergrowth which will be a problem next spring in the dry season.

He also detailed a typical day's work during the fire season.

MacIntosh was introduced by Donald Baxter, president.

Rail Conductor Retires

John R. Fulton, 1507 Lincoln Ave., Wellsville, Friday afternoon hopped aboard a diesel train for the last time, marking the end of a 49-year career with the Pennsylvania Railroad Co.

On hand to greet Fulton, right, before his train left was Walter C. Rockey, assistant trainmaster out of Mingo Junction. He presented Fulton his retirement papers and a handshake.

Fulton, a conductor, has worked for the past several years on a switcher in the East Liverpool area. Monday will mark official day of retirement.

Fulton was born in Paris, Pa., a small settlement near Weirton. He spent his boyhood in Burgettstown and moved to Wellsville Oct. 15, 1909.

He first was employed as a brakeman on the old Cleveland & Pittsburgh Division of the Pennsy. He was promoted to conductor Feb. 28, 1913, a position he held since except for a period in the early 1920's when he served as yardmaster at Wellsville.

His wife died Sept. 15, 1957. He and his granddaughter, Janice Kaye Drummond, a student at Wellsville High School, will continue to reside in Wellsville, although he plans to spend some time this winter in Florida.

Floyd M. Barcus, 1206 Commerce St., a brakeman on the crew with Fulton, also was honored Friday. He was presented a 40-year service pin by Rockey. He completed the tenure Oct. 10.

Traffic Toll Rises To 232

Snow Adds Hazards On U.S. Highways

Snow and ice-covered streets added to traffic hazards today and boosted the toll in accident deaths over the Thanksgiving weekend.

Several crashes on the slippery highways were reported as the season's first major storm swirled from the Midwest into areas east of the Mississippi River.

The hazardous driving conditions, however, appeared to have cut down the volume of traffic on highways, especially in the snow-covered regions.

The Thanksgiving weekend also is not regarded as a period of extra heavy traffic such as on other major holidays.

Elias Howe, a Massachusetts machine operator, spent five years in his off-time to invent the sewing machine. That was in 1846.

Soil Group Retains Head

Richard Dunn Given New County Term

LISBON — Richard Dunn of Winona has been re - elected president of the Columbiana County Soil Conservation District.

John Hull of Lisbon is vice president; Russell Reight of Wellsville, secretary; Wilbur Hayes of Highlandtown, treasurer, and Edgar Haynam of Minerva R. D., reporter.

Hull and Hayes also were given new terms.

A program planning meeting has been set tentatively for Feb. 2.

The Board of Supervisors also approved eight new co-operators in the county program. They are:

R. L. Huston of East Liverpool R. D. 2, 12 acres, and Carl Wollom of R. D. 2, 52 acres, both in St. Clair Township; Richard P. Carvelli of Lisbon R. D. 2, 10 acres in Center Township and Glenn A. Benner of Canfield, 169 acres in Middleton Township.

Junior Red Cross Campaign Results In $364 Proceeds

The annual Junior Red Cross drive, conducted in East Liverpool public schools and the Parochial School and in Salineville schools Nov. 17-21, netted $364.80, according to Mrs. Eleanor Boice, executive secretary of the city Red Cross Chapter.

This was slightly under the $377 collected last year, Mrs. Boice said, but approximates the average proceeds.

National Red Cross Headquarters will receive $190 of the collection for fees, magazines and the children's fund and the remainder will be used for local programs, and perhaps for the installation of new first aid kits in the schools.

Mrs. F. D. Irwin is chairman of the Junior Red Cross program here.

Weather Cuts Turnout For Cossack Concert

Some 140 persons braved the snowstorm Friday night to attend the concert by the Don Cossack Chorus and Dancers at the Westgate School auditorium, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club.

Over 800 had been expected but Rowland Kaufman, chairman, said that an advance ticket sale will prevent the club from incurring a large financial loss.

He said it was an excellent concert and he regretted that many of the ticket holders were unable to attend.

Proceeds were to have been used for the club's youth projects.

Steelworkers Union To Entertain Children

Midland's United Steelworkers Local 1212 will hold its annual children's Christmas party Tuesday, Dec. 23, beginning at 2 p.m. at the Union Hall.

Santa Claus will be present, Christmas movies will be shown and there will be treats for each child. Movies will also be taken.

Crucible Opens Outlet

The Crucible Steel Co. announced the opening of a warehouse in Toledo and the appointment of J. H. Rolfe as manager. Stocking a complete line of special purpose steels, including tool steels, alloys and stainless steels, the new facility will make possible more efficient and more rapid delivery of steels to our customers in this area.

who was crossing east, saw the car and told police he called to Mrs. Frazier and to Wimmer but the motorist didn't hear him.

Four other mishaps were reported Friday, all blamed on slippery streets.

A crash at 8:02 a. m. on Market St. involved a car operated by Cynthia Ruth Cogar, 119 Washington St., and the parked car of Ralph Cunningham, 116 W. 2nd St.

The woman told police she applied her brakes to avoid a pedestrian crossing the street and her auto slid sideways into the Cunningham car.

George M. Smith, 313 Garfield St., told police his car skidded into a utility pole at Lincoln Ave. and Grant St. at 10:15 a. m. yesterday.

A collision at 10:20 a. m. on Lisbon St. involved autos operated by Della M. Caywood of Fisher Park and James H. Johnson, 1012 Lisbon St., police said.

At 6:15 p. m., a backing car operated by Richard Willshaw, 1713 Idaho Ave., struck the parked car of Joseph M. Gibas, 1015 Washington St., Newell, at Walnut St. at the entrance to the A. & P. parking lot.

Truck Skids Into Car Parked At Wellsville

A Wellsville man's parked car was damaged heavily when hit by a tractor-trailer truck which slid on the snow-covered pavement Friday at 12:25 p. m. at 3rd and Main Sts.

The truck driven by Carl J. Weyard of Beaver skidded as he was making a turn from Main onto 3rd and hit the car of George Lawton, 505 Commerce St. Lawton's car was pushed into another parked car owned by Glenn F. Williams of Akron.

Weyard was driving for the Sun Oil Co., police said.

Cars driven by Jesse A. Calhoun, 312 W. 3rd St., East Liverpool, and Leon R. Jones of Girard collided yesterday afternoon at 2:20 at 17th and Main Sts., police said. The crash was blamed on the slippery street.

Hammondsville Man Hit By Car In Storm

An elderly Hammondsville man was struck by a car during the snow storm Friday afternoon at 12:15 in Hammondsville but escaped without injury.

Charles Elliott, 89, was unhurt when hit by the car of Mrs. Carolyn Urich, 20, also of Hammondsville.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol said the woman started to pull around a car stalled on Route 213 when the mishap occurred. A mirror was broken from the car by the impact.

Riley Ave. home Wednesday to serve the indictment but were advised by the family he was ill in bed. Deputies agreed to serve the indictment later.

The ex-officer along with Carroll was to go on trial Monday for a 1952 entering of the Smith & Phillips Co. The original trial ended Oct. 31 when a Common Pleas jury was unable to reach a verdict after deliberating for more than four hours.

Cunningham was also expected to testify before the Grand Jury Tuesday, but informed county authorities he would be unable to be present.

Atty. Alexander has already filed a motion for a new trial for Cunningham and Raimond on their conviction for the Burbick burglary for which they face prison terms of 1-15 years.

The indictment returned Tuesday is based on an alleged offer by the former policeman to make up the difference in salary and jury allowance of a drugstore clerk who had been called as a prospective juror for the trial.

A tape recording of the conversation between Cunningham and Donald Lockhart of McKinnon Ave., taken Nov. 9 at McBurney's Pharmacy, was played during the trial when ended last Friday.

Couple Seeks $50,125 In Traffic Crash Case

A city couple has filed suits totaling $50,125 for damages stemming from a traffic accident on Route 30 near Canton June, 1957.

Mrs. Lucille Gosch of Curry Ln. asked $22,800 in the suit in Common Pleas Court in Stark County against William Sukosd of near Canton, claiming she was injured when a racing car towed by the defendant broke loose and struck the car driven by her husband.

Frank T. Gosch is seeking $27,325 for personal injuries, loss of services, medical expenses and property damage.

Wetzel Given Oath

LISBON — Clarence L. Wetzel, Columbiana County state representative, was sworn in Wednesday by Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard. Rep. Wetzel, Republican, was elected to his fifth term Nov. 4.

Man Hurt In Fall

LISBON — Al Rowlands, 24, of 131 Morton St. suffered a compound fracture of the lower right leg Friday at 2:30 p.m. while working at the Lisbon Diesel & Supply, Inc. Rowlands was putting insulation on the rafters when he fell to the floor. He was taken to the Salem City Hospital.

Big Three With A Bear By The Tail

There has to be an end to the dilemma of the man who had a bear by the tail and didn't dare to let go. One of three things happened:

1. He let go and was demolished by the bear, as he had feared he would be.

2. He let go and demolished the bear, which was contrary to what he had expected would happen.

3. He let go and he and the bear, happy to be rid of each other, went on their separate ways.

No man ever held a bear by the tail indefinitely and no bear ever permitted itself to be held by the tail indefinitely.

The United States, Great Britain and France are not going to hang on to West Berlin indefinitely. Moreover, they are not going to hang on to West Germany indefinitely.

This cannot be said about East Berlin and East Germany, where the Communists have moved in to stay, contrary to the desires of the people who live there, no doubt. There is no likelihood of their leaving because they are unpopular, or because they are tired of staying where they are not wanted.

THE ONLY HOPE the Big Three can entertain, to offset this certainty, is that West Germany has been converted to non-Communism as completely as East Germany has been tied up by the "Quislings" who take their orders from Moscow.

In the meantime, both the West Germans and the East Germans have been doing some hoping of their own.

They are hoping for a happier day to come when all Germans can be reunited in a new Germany that will be its own master and will not be pulled hither and thither by the squabbling victors of World War II.

This is the long-range hope being held out to them by Premier Khruchshev, who seems to have made a German settlement his No. 1 diplomatic project for 1959.

He may have foreseen that the best way to start was to blast open the question of what is going to become of the Allied sector of Berlin—the "tail" the Big Three is holding.

He may have foreseen that this would induce a condition of Allied hysteria, which would get progressively worse until some far-seeing statesmen would propose that Germany be reunited as a buffer state, independent of direct intervention by both the Soviet Union and the Big Three.

That is precisely what the Soviet Union would like most, because otherwise West Germany must continue to be an Allied fortress.

That is what the Big Three would be glad to settle for eventually. They do not plan to stay in West Germany forever.

PREMIER KHRUSHCHEV, it would appear, has given more thought to the sequel of the bear-by-the-tail story than his counterparts in the United States, Great Britain and France. They merely have talked about getting rid of the dilemma. Khrushchev has started to do something about it.

He has caused widespread alarm by disturbing the status quo. But he also has appealed to the powerful desire of the German people to get rid of the physical presence of the Allied victors who occupied their country at the end of World War II.

The score in the latest round of the high-stakes game between the Soviet Union and the Western Allies stands at Khrushchev 1, Dulles 0.

J. P. Jones Could Have Stood It

The mentors of the future admirals of the U.S. Navy were not amused by the caper of the 17-year-old girl who impersonated a midshipman long enough to spend a few hours with the brigade at Annapolis.

They demoted the brigade commander and five other midshipmen officers.

This was done in accordance with regulations and, of course, in the highest interests of the U.S. Navy.

If this sort of thing were to be taken lightly, it would be no time at all before Bancroft Hall was full of frilly girls and the future admirals and their cutie-pies would be cutting capers in the gloomy crypt where the earthly remains of John Paul Jones are revered. Annapolis would be turned into another Las Vegas, and in only a few years there would be no further reason to play the Army-Navy game. The first-line defenses of the United States would be irrevocably and irretrievably shot. The home of the brave would turn into a matriarchy, the Pentagon would be without salt and savor and the savage and ruthless enemy would have nothing to stop him but a shower curtain draped in rinsed-out flimsies.

There must be no monkey-business in the U.S. Navy. Any snip of a girl who collaborates with any snip of a boy in invading Annapolis improperly must elicit no chuckles. It must be a day that will live in infamy. It will.

But somehow the idea lingers that John Paul Jones could have stood it without losing any of the pose that made him the scourge of the Seven Seas in his day. Somehow the idea lingers that J. P. Jones would not have considered it a flogging offense, though he could be a hard man with the lash.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Top scientists have formed Institute of Climology to study affect of climate on behavior of human beings. America has plenty of weather for it, but has it enough humans? Ultimate verdict on what rain, snow and ice do to people may be surprising.

We think most odd-ball behavior is due to nothing the psychiatrists say, but to fickle weather. There are areas where man is made irresponsible by constant strain of having to decide whether to put on rubbers or trust to luck.

PSYCHIATRISTS slap man on a couch and say he beats his wife because of lack of mother love as a child. But it's more likely he has been caught out in too many blizzards or had his radiator frozen up following "fair and warmer" predictions.

Woman who plugs her man with a horse-pistol didn't get rich cream on strawberries in girlhood, psychiatrist declares. But real trouble could be she has endured New England weather all her life. Sample cases:

1. Man is emotionally unstable and village toughie. Doctor says it's due to bad company. Scientific research shows it's due to bad weather prophets.

2. Fellow neglects wife and family. People blame it on following the horses. Fact is his condition is due to following weather bureau.

3. Man talks to self, whistles at dinner table, goes to business with only one shoe on and fights with office help. Psychiatrist says it's all a matter of boyhood vitamin shortage and refusal of parents to let him take station wagon to school. Science proves his condition is due to provocative dolls as weather forecasters on TV programs. He could easily brush off the male forecasters and escape wrong forecasts, but he hasn't strength to resist female forecasters.

GOOD LUCK to Institute of Climology! Its job will be interesting. May the scientists never become odd-balls in studies of weather and man. And we hope that they never leave important data on a windowsill on a nice autumn morning and find it blown away by a blizzard inside of a half hour.

MRS. EISENHOWER says she doesn't mind being a golf widow and wants Ike to play golf as often as possible. She must be an extraordinary person.

Wives suffer greatly from mercurial changes in dispositions of golf-playing mates. After a bad round they can be irascible and mean. After a good score they are so happy they insist upon going over the 18 holes play by play, expecting applause and cries of "Oh, George, you're so wonderful!" (Courts have held this intolerable cruelty.)

Either Mrs. Eisenhower is the Most Patient Gal of the Decade or she simply doesn't listen.

PRINCE RAINIER and Grace Kelly are visiting America and after seeing all those politicians they look awfully good.

George Panetta's burlesque of psychiatry on "Omnibus" was heavy, although psychiatry is a target hard to miss. The real laugh came, however, when psychiatrist explained kid's odd conduct with "He remembers that when he was a little child, his father was big. Now that he has grown up, his father looks shorter and it has mixed him up. He has a short-father complex."

United States has stopped buying uranium. This breaks our heart, as we had just had our Geiger counter reconditioned.

The president of National Council on Alcoholics says it is okay to drink when you are happy but never when you are dejected. But what about fellow who occupies the middleground where he is not positive whether he is happy or sad? His tendency is to take a snifter to see which way it sends him. If he feels one drink makes him droopy he takes another to get altitude. There are men who are made so buoyant by one drink they become objectionable and have to take at least three more to lower their spirits to a point where anybody can stand them.

A TV COMMERCIAL has a watch strapped to an outboard motor propellor for underwater test. We tried this with a watch of another make. The watch came out okay, but the motor was stopped.

There's one international hassle that isn't being aggravated by the Soviet. It's conference on whaling agreement. It seems there is a whale shortage and there is so much competition that there has to be a quota system. The U.S. sends out no whalers. This keeps Dulles out of the dispute and makes sure "That she blows" will not threaten a world war.

Big oil strikes are reported in the Sahara Desert. It must seem strange to see a camel bearing a man with the news he just struck a gusher.

Women may be used to ticket violators of no-parking rules in New York. Best fights of week should take place when one woman driver emerges from shopping to find her car being ticketed by another woman.

Ike got his usual gift of a big Thanksgiving turkey. But Democrats had given him the bird a month back.

Odd Facts

The term "sterling," as applied to the British pound, derives from an early English coin known as the "esterling," which was introduced into British traces by the Esterlings or Saxons. It was a coin which was maintained at a steady, fixed content. It contained approximately a pound of silver originally.

The manna of the Israelites, mentioned in the Bible, is believed to have been a saccharine substance exuding from the bark of the tamarisk, when the surface was punctured by insects. This substance has a yellowish color and a honey - like odor.

The Power Of Faith

By Howard Brodie

All day long the phone kept ringing in the Chico, Calif., home of William Gardenhire, a 71-year-old retired highway worker.

"Hello," the eager voices asked, "is this Santa Claus?"

Gardenhire wasn't Santa Claus, although he later wished he had been. Protesting to the telephone company, he learned that his wires had been crossed with a special Junior Chamber of Commerce connection set up to take Santa Claus calls from children.

Then Gardenhire began to think about his unique experience and what it had meant to him. In a letter to the Chico Enterprise Record, he wrote: "It has been many years since two little arms were around my neck and a trusting voice confided to me all the things he wanted me to get him for Christmas.

"If we as adults had a fraction of the faith in God as these children have in Santa Claus, there would never be any need for armies and navies and we would never fear H-bombs. I want to apologize to the children for not being Santa, but most of all I want to thank them for renewing my faith in God."

Nixon Is In For A Tough Race

By Victor Riesel

If you peered real sharply through the murky atmosphere surrounding Richard Nixon's visit to foggy old London town, you could have seen his presidential strategy showing. No man ever did the course between the Savoy, the Strand, Buckingham Palace, the Embankment, lovely Mayfair and gracious "Little America" (Grosvenor Square) in fewer available hours — yet at the last minute conservative Dick Nixon added talks with British labor leaders to his schedule.

Victor Riesel

This marked the beginning of the vice president's shift to the left-of-center of his old friends in the GOP.

It was the start of a neutralizing public relations campaign to scrape off the ultra - conservative label the American labor chiefs have plastered on him.

The drive will pick up speed and lose the subtlety of the maneuver in Britain as Nixon organizes his forces for the 1960 national Republican convention.

There are those in Dick Nixon's joint chiefs of strategy who believe this tactic is the only way to head off Nelson Rockefeller. For there are few who do not believe that the New York governor - elect is a candidate for the presidency in '60.

FURTHERMORE, strange as it seems now, Mr. Rockefeller will have such a friendly reception in labor circles during the next two years that he will arrive at the GOP national nominating conclave with the reputation for being the only Republican who can win union members' votes.

This is not as odd as it sounds. Insiders, who are scientists in the political laboratories, reason it this way:

You must start with the fact that the practical politicians inside labor need some Republican officials as friends — to prove that labor is bi-partisan. Otherwise labor can be as badly hurt in the next national election as it was successful in the recent one.

In the highest labor circles today, as they analyze the past poll, they are gleeful over their whopping victory — but disturbed, too.

They acknowledge to themselves that it is not politically healthy to be branded as the "boss" of the Democratic party.

They know that they are the balance of power bloc, and even the dominant force, in some areas, right across the U.S. Except for the South, of course. Even there they supplied the money and manpower for effective campaigns against the few influential Republicans.

ALL THIS was obvious to the staff of the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education (COPE) when it met the day after election to tally its score card. These technicians realized then what their national leaders began discussing later.

When the new Congress convenes, there will be a huge bloc of lawmakers who owe their election to the labor machinery. There is no doubt that the Republicans will make much of this.

The labor leaders don't want the "boss" label pinned on them. They know, and they are saying to each other, that the American people always vote against what appears to be a suddenly successful or suddenly aggressive power bloc.

The only way to dissipate this is to find Republicans whom they can support — and who will work with them in the years between.

Unless success spoils Nelson Rockefeller, he is one such Republican. Already the labor leaders are praising him. Already some of them have conferred with members of his braintrust.

Already there is believable talk that he will name some of the labor chiefs, or their aides, to state offices and commissions. He does plan to name several Liberal Party and New Deal Democrats to such posts.

Thus the labor people would be able to point to bi-partisanship. Mr. Rockefeller could stake out the middle-of-the road, which is the real inside track at conventions.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Checks totaling $65,000 were distributed to 1,400 depositors of the Christmas Savings Club conducted by the Union Savings and Loan Co.

Dog licenses for 1929 were placed on sale at the tax office in Lisbon.

Members of the high school football squad and coach J. E. Hurst were honored at a dinner given by the East Liverpool Athletic Association in the Travelers Hotel.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Richard C. Larkins, former East Liverpool High School and Ohio State University football and basketball star, spoke during the annual banquet of the Ohio State Alumni Association of Columbiana County at the Travelers Hotel.

TEN YEARS AGO — Some 700 attended the three - act comedy "The Duffy Dills" presented by the Junior Class of Wells High School, Newell.

The annual Christmas Health Seal Drive was opened by the Hancock County Tuberculosis League with the mailing of 500 letters to Chester residents.

Miss Gloria Lee Crawford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Crawford of Chester R. D. 1, was named to the honor roll at Eastern Nazarene College, Wollaston, Mass.

Plea For Help Answered

BEAVER, Alaska

This little Arctic Circle village is more snug and happy than it has been for years because friendly church workers from all parts of the United States answered its appeal for help.

A work camp of the American Friends Service Committee made a summer job of rehabilitating the community, mainly through building log cabins.

Beaver, founded in 1910 by a Japanese trader, was originally a point of supply on the Yukon River for the Chandalar gold mines. Gold mining declined. The community turned to trapping. Fur prices dropped. Tuberculosis sapped the people's strength. In recent years the village has been largely on relief.

Moses Cruikshank, a resident, appealed for help. He said poverty and poor health had left the village without manpower, which made it difficult to improve living conditions. Their homes were drafty, overcrowded and in danger of being undermined by the Yukon River.

A group of young church volunteers — men and women — flew north. They worked 48-hour weeks, without pay, sawing lumber, building houses and driving tractors in the work camp.

In a large log cabin loaned by a trader the group cooked, ate and gathered in the evenings. They slept in three canvas huts.

Dr. John Ferger, Dryden, N.Y., was the camp leader. When he wasn't doing carpentry he maintained a clinic where his main job was pulling teeth.

Only a couple of the campers had more than the most rudimentary skill in handling tools. Three well-trained men from the village taught the group how to build cabins.

By the end of summer the crew completed 11 cabins and had begun two others. They left a supply of materials for the villagers to finish the remaining pair.

'Token Integration'

By David Lawrence

Has The South Won A Great Court Victory?

Has the South won a sensational victory in the Supreme Court of the United States? Sometimes, because of the legal complexities of the high court's action, the actual result is obscured. But opinion of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals in the Fifth District of May 9, 1958, is examined— for it was upheld last week in a brief order by the Supreme Court —the more it becomes apparent that, as a practical matter, a legal way has been opened up to checkmate any large-scale admission of Negroes in the South to public schools hitherto attended exclusively by whites.

David Lawrence

"Token integration" — such as is practiced in North Carolina, where about 10 Negroes out of 300,000 have been admitted to public schools previously attended entirely by whites — now has become possible on a constitutional basis everywhere.

Up to now the 1954 decision of the Supreme Court of the United States has been widely interpreted to mean that the Constitution requires every Negro student to have the opportunity to attend a white school in order to get the benefit of association with others in the classroom.

It was ruled that separate facilities are "inherently unequal" from an educational standpoint.

This view can still be reaffirmed in legal phrases by the Supreme Court but the power to prevent such an educational result rests with the states if they use the device now offered by the Alabama State law on pupil assignment.

WHAT ALABAMA did was to wipe out of its Constitution and from its statute books anything that mentioned segregation in the public schools by race or color.

It is true that even after the pupil assignment law was passed in 1957 by the Alabama Legislature, with broad provisions for discretion by the local school boards in acting on student applications, a letter was written by the state superintendent of education plainly discouraging integration.

The U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, however, said it isn't the state superintendent but the local school board members who have the power to admit or not admit students to certain public schools.

The Circuit Court held also that the Alabama law is not "unconstitutional on its face" because under its provisions Negro students as well as whites could be admitted to all public schools. Racial discrimination has to be proved, the court ruled.

How then can the "motive" of a school board be ascertained as long as it can base its decisions with respect to student applications on any or all of about 17 different factors recited in the Alabama law?

Even these enumerated points are not all, for the same law says that, while certain factors "shall be considered with respect to the individual pupil," the school boards in addition have a broad power derived from the blanket clause: "As well as other relevant matters."

WHO IS GOING to find out what goes on in the minds of the members of a local school board?

The same U.S. Circuit Court opinion of May 1958, which this week became "the law of the land," says, "in testing constitutionality 'we cannot undertake a search for motive.'"

It goes on to quote another Supreme Court deicison: "If the state has the power to do an act, its intention or the reason by which it is influenced in doing it cannot be inquired into."

Each case, moreover, would be a separate lawsuit dealing with an individual and not a class, and hence this could hardly establish any general rules.

It will be noted that, in the case of the four Negro students in Birmingham, whose attorneys challenged the state law which the Supreme Court of the United States upheld last Monday, the school board neither granted nor denied the application — it simply did nothing.

The U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in its May 1958 opinion described it this way:

"The defendant board simply failed to admit or to deny the request for assignment of the minor plaintiffs to the schools requested, without assigning any reason for such non-action."

The court said it couldn't proceed on the assumption that the board failed to act for some reason related to pre-existing laws on segregation and ruled instead that the "non-action is based upon some one or more of the grounds" specified in the new law.

The guide now to Virginia and Arkansas — plainly indicated by what the Supreme Court of the United States has done — is to wipe off the books any provision of the State Constitution or any laws which compel segregation, leaving it to the local school boards to administer a "pupil assignment" law as they please.

This is, to be sure, an obvious circumvention, but so is "token integration" — so widely approved by "moderates."

It is a condition, however, and not a theory that faces the South and the Supreme Court has unwittingly pointed a way to continue segregation everywhere that the people, through their local school boards, want it continued.

To be on the safe side, or course, the local school boards will have to be sure there are some applications each year from white students that are also turned down.

Such is the transitory or ephemeral nature of "the law of the land" which has just been demonstrated conspicuously again to be only "the law of the case."

Dear Nephew: If you keep on this way, you will be guilty of practicing head-shrinking without a license. Your aunt and I, moreover, will be guilty by association.

You say the root of the trouble about segregation, both national and international, is the need to feel superior to somebody else. All of us know how that works, I suppose.

We look with pity on what we are not. If we are tall, we pity the short. If we are fat, we feel sorry for the lean. If we are strong, we say the world belongs to the strong, and if we are weak we say the world must be made safe for the weak.

Frankly, we hadn't thought about this much in connection with international stress and strain. But it is obvious that the Russians and their kind are driven by desire to prove they are superior to somebody, which is understandable. For centuries they were superior to nobody.

We and our kind, on the other hand, are determined to prove we are the top dogs, and we have been none too tactful about rubbing it in, even withholding diplomatic recognition, which is as snubbish as you can get in international society.

As you suggest, we need psychiatry more than we need diplomacy. And here at home, we need conciliators more than we need agitators, because there is no doubt about it — we're starting to push one another off the sidewalks.

We need to set up under the United Nations a new tribe of Philistines so everybody can look down on them in deep and utter contempt. As I remember it, that was the status of the Philistines as far as the Israelites were concerned. They were despised until all the Philistines had lost their separate identity in the high dudgeon and burning scorn of their detractors.

Let's imagine we could find some hitherto undiscovered nation of green people who were still trying to put together their first do-it-yourself ironing-board kit — backward types.

Then all the other colors of people and all the other nationalities could look down their noses at the greenies. We could push them off the sidewalks and refuse to give them diplomatic recognition.

We could spurn them and laugh at them, hate them and patronize them, the same as it is now between the self-designated superiors and the involuntary and bitterly resentful inferiors. We could pool our superiority complexes.

This is one of the most delightful possibilities of space exploration — that we earthlings may discover somebody all of us can kick around to show our superiority and quit lording it over one another.

It is un-American — or unearthly, I should say — to think of the possibility we might be kickees, instead of kickers. That is just the chance we'll have to take if we go looking for new worlds to conquer. There's always the possibility of coming out on the short end.

I don't have a Philistine handy right now, so I do not feel superior to anyone at the moment. But if I put my mind to it, I could think of a dozen Philistines who aren't fit to breathe the same air I breathe. Fortunately, they'd all be bigger than I am, so I would let 'em keep right on breathing.

Big Three With A Bear By The Tail

There has to be an end to the dilemma of the man who had a bear by the tail and didn't dare to let go. One of three things happened:

1. He let go and was demolished by the bear, as he had feared he would be.

2. He let go and demolished the bear, which was contrary to what he had expected would happen.

3. He let go and he and the bear, happy to be rid of each other, went on their separate ways.

No man ever held a bear by the tail indefinitely and no bear ever permitted itself to be held by the tail indefinitely.

The United States, Great Britain and France are not going to hang on to West Berlin indefinitely. Moreover, they are not going to hang on to West Germany indefinitely.

This cannot be said about East Berlin and East Germany, where the Communists have moved in to stay, contrary to the desires of the people who live there, no doubt. There is no likelihood of their leaving because they are unpopular, or because they are tired of staying where they are not wanted.

THE ONLY HOPE the Big Three can entertain, to offset this certainty, is that West Germany has been converted to non-Communism as completely as East Germany has been tied up by the "Quislings" who take their orders from Moscow.

In the meantime, both the West Germans and the East Germans have been doing some hoping of their own.

They are hoping for a happier day to come when all Germans can be reunited in a new Germany that will be its own master and will not be pulled hither and thither by the squabbling victors of World War II.

This is the long-range hope being held out to them by Premier Khruchshev, who seems to have made a German settlement his No. 1 diplomatic project for 1959.

He may have foreseen that the best way to start was to blast open the question of what is going to become of the Allied sector of Berlin—the "tail" the Big Three is holding.

He may have foreseen that this would induce a condition of Allied hysteria, which would get progressively worse until some far-seeing statesmen would propose that Germany be reunited as a buffer state, independent of direct intervention by both the Soviet Union and the Big Three.

That is precisely what the Soviet Union would like most, because otherwise West Germany must continue to be an Allied fortress.

That is what the Big Three would be glad to settle for eventually. They do not plan to stay in West Germany forever.

PREMIER KHRUSHCHEV, it would appear, has given more thought to the sequel of the bear-by-the-tail story than his counterparts in the United States, Great Britain and France. They merely have talked about getting rid of the dilemma. Khrushchev has started to do something about it.

He has caused widespread alarm by disturbing the status quo. But he also has appealed to the powerful desire of the German people to get rid of the physical presence of the Allied victors who occupied their country at the end of World War II.

The score in the latest round of the high-stakes game between the Soviet Union and the Western Allies stands at Khrushchev 1, Dulles 0.

J. P. Jones Could Have Stood It

The mentors of the future admirals of the U.S. Navy were not amused by the caper of the 17-year-old girl who impersonated a midshipman long enough to spend a few hours with the brigade at Annapolis.

They demoted the brigade commander and five other midshipmen officers.

This was done in accordance with regulations and, of course, in the highest interests of the U.S. Navy.

If this sort of thing were to be taken lightly, it would be no time at all before Bancroft Hall was full of frilly girls and the future admirals and their cutie-pies would be cutting capers in the gloomy crypt where the earthly remains of John Paul Jones are revered. Annapolis would be turned into another Las Vegas, and in only a few years there would be no further reason to play the Army-Navy game. The first-line defenses of the United States would be irrevocably and irretrievably shot. The home of the brave would turn into a matriarchy, the Pentagon would be without salt and savor and the savage and ruthless enemy would have nothing to stop him but a shower curtain draped in rinsed-out flimsies.

There must be no monkey-business in the U.S. Navy. Any snip of a girl who collaborates with any snip of a boy in invading Annapolis improperly must elicit no chuckles. It must be a day that will live in infamy. It will.

But somehow the idea lingers that John Paul Jones could have stood it without losing any of the pose that made him the scourge of the Seven Seas in his day. Somehow the idea lingers that J. P. Jones would not have considered it a flogging offense, though he could be a hard man with the lash.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Top scientists have formed Institute of Climology to study affect of climate on behavior of human beings. America has plenty of weather for it, but has it enough humans? Ultimate verdict on what rain, snow and ice do to people may be surprising.

We think most odd-ball behavior is due to nothing the psychiatrists say, but to fickle weather. There are areas where man is made irresponsible by constant strain of having to decide whether to put on rubbers or trust to luck.

PSYCHIATRISTS slap man on a couch and say he beats his wife because of lack of mother love as a child. But it's more likely he has been caught out in too many blizzards or had his radiator frozen up following "fair and warmer" predictions.

Woman who plugs her man with a horse-pistol didn't get rich cream on strawberries in girlhood, psychiatrist declares. But real trouble could be she has endured New England weather all her life. Sample cases:

1. Man is emotionally unstable and village toughie. Doctor says it's due to bad company. Scientific research shows it's due to bad weather prophets.

2. Fellow neglects wife and family. People blame it on following the horses. Fact is his condition is due to following weather bureau.

3. Man talks to self, whistles at dinner table, goes to business with only one shoe on and fights with office help. Psychiatrist says it's all a matter of boyhood vitamin shortage and refusal of parents to let him take station wagon to school. Science proves his condition is due to provocative dolls as weather forecasters on TV programs. He could easily brush off the male forecasters and escape wrong forecasts, but he hasn't strength to resist female forecasters.

GOOD LUCK to Institute of Climology! Its job will be interesting. May the scientists never become odd-balls in studies of weather and man. And we hope that they never leave important data on a windowsill on a nice autumn morning and find it blown away by a blizzard inside of a half hour.

MRS. EISENHOWER says she doesn't mind being a golf widow and wants Ike to play golf as often as possible. She must be an extraordinary person.

Wives suffer greatly from mercurial changes in dispositions of golf-playing mates. After a bad round they can be irascible and mean. After a good score they are so happy they insist upon going over the 18 holes play by play, expecting applause and cries of "Oh, George, you're so wonderful!" (Courts have held this intolerable cruelty.)

George Panetta's burlesque of psychiatry on "Omnibus" was heavy, although psychiatry is a target hard to miss. The real laugh came, however, when psychiatrist explained kid's odd conduct with "He remembers that when he was a little child, his father was big. Now that he has grown up, his father looks shorter and it has mixed him up. He has a short-father complex."

United States has stopped buying uranium. This breaks our heart, as we had just had our Geiger counter reconditioned.

The president of National Council on Alcoholics says it is okay to drink when you are happy but never when you are dejected. But what about fellow who occupies the middleground where he is not positive whether he is happy or sad? His tendency is to take a snifter to see which way it sends him. If he feels one drink makes him droopy he takes another to get altitude. There are men who are made so buoyant by one drink they become objectionable and have to take at least three more to lower their spirits to a point where anybody can stand them.

There's one international hassle that isn't being aggravated by the Soviet. It's conference on whaling agreement. It seems there is a whale shortage and there is so much competition that there has to be a quota system. The U.S. sends out no whalers. This keeps Dulles out of the dispute and makes sure "That she blows" will not threaten a world war.

Odd Facts

The term "sterling," as applied to the British pound, derives from an early English coin known as the "esterling," which was introduced into British traces by the Esterlings or Saxons. It was a coin which was maintained at a steady, fixed content. It contained approximately a pound of silver originally.

The Power Of Faith

By Howard Brodie

All day long the phone kept ringing in the Chico, Calif., home of William Gardenhire, a 71-year-old retired highway worker.

"Hello," the eager voices asked, "is this Santa Claus?"

Gardenhire wasn't Santa Claus, although he later wished he had been. Protesting to the telephone company, he learned that his wires had been crossed with a special Junior Chamber of Commerce connection set up to take Santa Claus calls from children.

Then Gardenhire began to think about his unique experience and what it had meant to him. In a letter to the Chico Enterprise Record, he wrote: "It has been many years since two little arms were around my neck and a trusting voice confided to me all the things he wanted me to get him for Christmas.

"If we as adults had a fraction of the faith in God as these children have in Santa Claus, there would never be any need for armies and navies and we would never fear H-bombs. I want to apologize to the children for not being Santa, but most of all I want to thank them for renewing my faith in God."

Nixon Is In For A Tough Race

By Victor Riesel

If you peered real sharply through the murky atmosphere surrounding Richard Nixon's visit to foggy old London town, you could have seen his presidential strategy showing. No man ever did the course between the Savoy, the Strand, Buckingham Palace, the Embankment, lovely Mayfair and gracious "Little America" (Grosvenor Square) in fewer available hours — yet at the last minute conservative Dick Nixon added talks with British labor leaders to his schedule.

Victor Riesel

This marked the beginning of the vice president's shift to the left-of-center of his old friends in the GOP.

It was the start of a neutralizing public relations campaign to scrape off the ultra - conservative label the American labor chiefs have plastered on him.

The drive will pick up speed and lose the subtlety of the maneuver in Britain as Nixon organizes his forces for the 1960 national Republican convention.

There are those in Dick Nixon's joint chiefs of strategy who believe this tactic is the only way to head off Nelson Rockefeller. For there are few who do not believe that the New York governor - elect is a candidate for the presidency in '60.

FURTHERMORE, strange as it seems now, Mr. Rockefeller will have such a friendly reception in labor circles during the next two years that he will arrive at the GOP national nominating conclave with the reputation for being the only Republican who can win union members' votes.

This is not as odd as it sounds. Insiders, who are scientists in the political laboratories, reason it this way:

You must start with the fact that the practical politicians inside labor need some Republican officials as friends — to prove that labor is bi-partisan. Otherwise labor can be as badly hurt in the next national election as it was successful in the recent one.

In the highest labor circles today, as they analyze the past poll, they are gleeful over their whopping victory — but disturbed, too.

They acknowledge to themselves that it is not politically healthy to be branded as the "boss" of the Democratic party.

They know that they are the balance of power bloc, and even the dominant force, in some areas, right across the U.S. Except for the South, of course. Even there they supplied the money and manpower for effective campaigns against the few influential Republicans.

ALL THIS was obvious to the staff of the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education (COPE) when it met the day after election to tally its score card. These technicians realized then what their national leaders began discussing later.

When the new Congress convenes, there will be a huge bloc of lawmakers who owe their election to the labor machinery. There is no doubt that the Republicans will make much of this.

The labor leaders don't want the "boss" label pinned on them. They know, and they are saying to each other, that the American people always vote against what appears to be a suddenly successful or suddenly aggressive power bloc.

The only way to dissipate this is to find Republicans whom they can support — and who will work with them in the years between.

Unless success spoils Nelson Rockefeller, he is one such Republican. Already the labor leaders are praising him. Already some of them have conferred with members of his braintrust.

Already there is believable talk that he will name some of the labor chiefs, or their aides, to state offices and commissions. He does plan to name several Liberal Party and New Deal Democrats to such posts.

Thus the labor people would be able to point to bi-partisanship. Mr. Rockefeller could stake out the middle-of-the road, which is the real inside track at conventions.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Checks totaling $65,000 were distributed to 1,400 depositors of the Christmas Savings Club conducted by the Union Savings and Loan Co.

The annual Christmas Health Seal Drive was opened by the Hancock County Tuberculosis League with the mailing of 500 letters to Chester residents.

Miss Gloria Lee Crawford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Crawford of Chester R. D. 1, was named to the honor roll at Eastern Nazarene College, Wollaston, Mass.

Plea For Help Answered

BEAVER, Alaska This little Arctic Circle village is more snug and happy than it has been for years because friendly church workers from all parts of the United States answered its appeal for help.

A work camp of the American Friends Service Committee made a summer job of rehabilitating the community, mainly through building log cabins.

Beaver, founded in 1910 by a Japanese trader, was originally a point of supply on the Yukon River for the Chandalar gold mines. Gold mining declined. The community turned to trapping. We could spurn them and laugh at them, hate them and patronize them, the same as it is now between the self-designated superiors and the involuntary and bitterly resentful inferiors. We could pool our superiority complexes.

This is one of the most delightful possibilities of space exploration — that we earthlings may discover somebody all of us can kick around to show our superiority and quit lording it over one another.

It is un-American — or unearthly, I should say — to think of the possibility we might be kickees, instead of kickers. That is just the chance we'll have to take if we go looking for new worlds to conquer. There's always the possibility of coming out on the short end.

I don't have a Philistine handy right now, so I do not feel superior to anyone at the moment. But if I put my mind to it, I could think of a dozen Philistines who aren't fit to breathe the same air I breathe. Fortunately, they'd all be bigger than I am, so I would let 'em keep right on breathing.

C. F. Kettering, Famed Inventor, Buried In Dayton

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Famed inventor and millionaire philanthropist Charles F. Kettering was buried in a simple ceremony Friday.

The season's first snowstorm swirled around a hundred of his closest friends as the body of the automotive genius was laid to rest beside that of his wife Olive, who died in 1946.

Kettering, whose achievements include devising a practical auto self-starter, the electric cash register and anti-knock gasoline, died Tuesday of a cerebral hemorrhage. He was 82.

The funeral service at Christ Episcopal Church began at 2:02 p. m. No eulogy was spoken in the 18-minute service. A few prayers were said and several hymns sung. Red roses covered the casket.

At the cemetery, an employe shoveled a path through the snow from the road to the grave. Bronze - colored chrysanthemums lined the path.

The snowstorm kept many out-of-towners from attending the funeral of the former General Motors research chief. Among those in attendance were Harlow Curtis, former General Motors president; John F. Gordon, present GM president; Alfred P. Sloan Jr., former GM board chairman, and Henry Dupont and Walter S. Carpenter, both GM board members from Wilmington, Del.

Gen. Hodes In Berlin To Watch Grid Game

BERLIN (AP) — Gen. H. I. Hodes, commander of the U. S. Army in Europe, arrived in Communist-threatened West Berlin today.

An Army spokesman said the general's visit had no connection with Soviet threats against this divided, occupied city.

"He came to watch a football game," the spokesman said, "and that's the truth."

TURIN, Italy (AP) — Turin's 80,000 pigeons were giving the bird today to the city fathers.

So City Council voted that 10,000 of them should be caught and donated to such Italian cities as are short of pigeons—such as Arezo, where they've all been eaten, and Mantua, where they've all migrated to Venice.

Pigeon-lovers shrieked in protest. They might as well have spared their voices.

The City Hall's big pigeon hunt started Friday. Crews were equipped with 15 - foot nets. Pigeon lovers were out in full - throated force. They hooted, waved their arms and hurled pebbles to put the sitting birds to flight.

At dusk it began to dawn upon the City Council that it had laid an egg.

One hundred pigeons were in the nets, and 79,900 were still flying over City Hall. But the pigeon roundup resumes today.

U.S. Envoy Draws Indonesia Criticism

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Two progovernment politicians today criticized U.S. Ambassador Howard P. Jones for mentioning the Indonesian rebellion in the same context as the American Civil War.

Jones had said: "The difficulties of your current internal struggle an American can understand, for we had our own civil war before we came of age."

A member of Parliament, Abdul Wahab Chasbulla, commented: "There is no civil war in Indonesia, only the firm action against rebels that is common throughout the world."

Kept Promise, Spinster Says In Death Of Sister

MEDIA, Pa. (AP)—"I kept my promise."

With those words, spoken quietly and without emotion, white-haired spinster Anne Eldredge, 71, told a Delaware County coroner's jury Friday why she allowed her 77-year-old sister, Irene, to take a lethal dose of sleeping pills last Oct. 16.

The jury called Irene's death homicide. But a judge later dismissed the charge against her sister.

Anne told how her sister, afflicted by severe headaches, attempted to take her life four years ago. On that occasion, Anne had her rushed to a hospital in time to save her.

"She often rebuked me for doing that and she made me promise not to do it again. I kept my promise."

Peiping Claims Weather Control Tests Successful

TOKYO (AP) — Peiping Radio claimed today successful experiments in weather control have been made during the past week over Nanking, former capital of China.

The broadcast said a special plane had cleared a circular space in a cloudy sky Wednesday measuring about 2,100 feet wide and 19,500 feet long.

The following day the plane circled in a clear sky. A long, narrow strip of white cloud appeared seven minutes later, the broadcast said. In 10 minutes the strip was more than 3,000 feet wide and about 4½ miles long.

The broadcast did not give details on how or why the cloud formed or dispersed.

C. F. Kettering, Famed Inventor, Buried In Dayton

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Famed inventor and millionaire philanthropist Charles F. Kettering was buried in a simple ceremony Friday.

The season's first snowstorm swirled around a hundred of his closest friends as the body of the automotive genius was laid to rest beside that of his wife Olive, who died in 1946.

Kettering, whose achievements include devising a practical auto self-starter, the electric cash register and anti-knock gasoline, died Tuesday of a cerebral hemorrhage. He was 82.

The funeral service at Christ Episcopal Church began at 2:02 p. m. No eulogy was spoken in the 18-minute service. A few prayers were said and several hymns sung. Red roses covered the casket.

The snowstorm kept many out-of-towners from attending the funeral of the former General Motors research chief. Among those in attendance were Harlow Curtis, former General Motors president; John F. Gordon, present GM president; Alfred P. Sloan Jr., former GM board chairman, and Henry Dupont and Walter S. Carpenter, both GM board members from Wilmington, Del.

Gen. Hodes In Berlin To Watch Grid Game

BERLIN (AP) — Gen. H. I. Hodes, commander of the U. S. Army in Europe, arrived in Communist-threatened West Berlin today.

An Army spokesman said the general's visit had no connection with Soviet threats against this divided, occupied city.

"He came to watch a football game," the spokesman said, "and that's the truth."

TURIN, Italy (AP) — Turin's 80,000 pigeons were giving the bird today to the city fathers.

So City Council voted that 10,000 of them should be caught and donated to such Italian cities as are short of pigeons—such as Arezo, where they've all been eaten, and Mantua, where they've all migrated to Venice.

Pigeon-lovers shrieked in protest. They might as well have spared their voices.

The City Hall's big pigeon hunt started Friday. Crews were equipped with 15 - foot nets. Pigeon lovers were out in full - throated force. They hooted, waved their arms and hurled pebbles to put the sitting birds to flight.

At dusk it began to dawn upon the City Council that it had laid an egg.

One hundred pigeons were in the nets, and 79,900 were still flying over City Hall. But the pigeon roundup resumes today.

U.S. Envoy Draws Indonesia Criticism

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Two progovernment politicians today criticized U.S. Ambassador Howard P. Jones for mentioning the Indonesian rebellion in the same context as the American Civil War.

Jones had said: "The difficulties of your current internal struggle an American can understand, for we had our own civil war before we came of age."

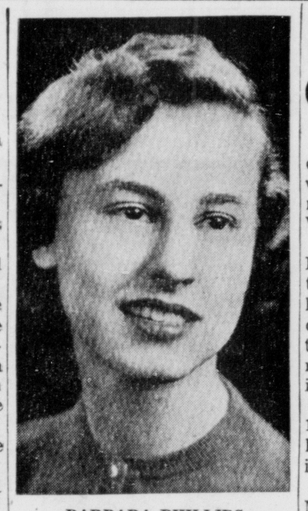

A member of Parliament, Abdul Wahab Chasbulla, commented: "There is no civil war in Indonesia, only the firm action against rebels that is common throughout the world."

Kept Promise, Spinster Says In Death Of Sister

MEDIA, Pa. (AP)—"I kept my promise."

With those words, spoken quietly and without emotion, white-haired spinster Anne Eldredge, 71, told a Delaware County coroner's jury Friday why she allowed her 77-year-old sister, Irene, to take a lethal dose of sleeping pills last Oct. 16.

The jury called Irene's death homicide. But a judge later dismissed the charge against her sister.

Anne told how her sister, afflicted by severe headaches, attempted to take her life four years ago. On that occasion, Anne had her rushed to a hospital in time to save her.

"She often rebuked me for doing that and she made me promise not to do it again. I kept my promise."

Peiping Claims Weather Control Tests Successful

TOKYO (AP) — Peiping Radio claimed today successful experiments in weather control have been made during the past week over Nanking, former capital of China.

The broadcast said a special plane had cleared a circular space in a cloudy sky Wednesday measuring about 2,100 feet wide and 19,500 feet long.

The following day the plane circled in a clear sky. A long, narrow strip of white cloud appeared seven minutes later, the broadcast said. In 10 minutes the strip was more than 3,000 feet wide and about 4½ miles long.

The broadcast did not give details on how or why the cloud formed or dispersed.

Kittens, Mittens, and Life

"Three little kittens lost their mittens . . ." Bobby is thoroughly absorbed in the antics of the kittens. He will be pleased to discover that at the end of the story they find their mittens again. Like all children, he wants his stories to have happy endings.

But soon Bobby is going to find out that life's stories don't all have happy endings. Bobby is growing up, out of the land of fairies and elves, into the world of reality. Bobby must learn to meet sorrow with understanding, pain with courage, prosperity with thankfulness, defeat with hope, success with humility—he must learn to face life.

The Church School is waiting with open doors for Bobby, your Bobby. The Church School is prepared to show your children the best ways to make life a success. The Church School is ready to teach your children—in the language of children—the eternal truths of life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

HUMANITY CALLING!

by MAJOR WILLIAM MURTAUGH of THE SALVATION ARMY

CHRISTMAS APPEAL

Nehemiah 8:10

As Christmas approaches, passersby in the downtown area will once again become conscious of the traditional "kettles" manned by the lads and lassies of The Salvation Army, ringing the bells to bring "Cheer To The Needy".

Out of the gay, little kettles will come Christmas joy for many who otherwise would have no celebration at all. The family for whom "hard times have been knocking on the door," the less privileged children, the aged and friendless, patients in hospitals, inmates in prison and many others will be the concern of The Salvation Army.

An Army of Peace, whose spiritual purpose is paramount, as its workers with hearts dedicated to God and hands held out to mankind, carry on their services not as the doling out of alms, but as a practical expression of Christianity in action. And through these services, the erring, the bewildered and fearful, the unfortunate, are restored to their proper relationship with God and their fellow men. In every corner of the world where need exists, The Salvation Army seeks to meet that need.

Kittens, Mittens, and Life

"Three little kittens lost their mittens . . ." Bobby is thoroughly absorbed in the antics of the kittens. He will be pleased to discover that at the end of the story they find their mittens again. Like all children, he wants his stories to have happy endings.

But soon Bobby is going to find out that life's stories don't all have happy endings. Bobby is growing up, out of the land of fairies and elves, into the world of reality. Bobby must learn to meet sorrow with understanding, pain with courage, prosperity with thankfulness, defeat with hope, success with humility—he must learn to face life.

The Church School is waiting with open doors for Bobby, your Bobby. The Church School is prepared to show your children the best ways to make life a success. The Church School is ready to teach your children—in the language of children—the eternal truths of life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

HUMANITY CALLING!

by MAJOR WILLIAM MURTAUGH of THE SALVATION ARMY

CHRISTMAS APPEAL

Nehemiah 8:10

As Christmas approaches, passersby in the downtown area will once again become conscious of the traditional "kettles" manned by the lads and lassies of The Salvation Army, ringing the bells to bring "Cheer To The Needy".

Out of the gay, little kettles will come Christmas joy for many who otherwise would have no celebration at all. The family for whom "hard times have been knocking on the door," the less privileged children, the aged and friendless, patients in hospitals, inmates in prison and many others will be the concern of The Salvation Army.

An Army of Peace, whose spiritual purpose is paramount, as its workers with hearts dedicated to God and hands held out to mankind, carry on their services not as the doling out of alms, but as a practical expression of Christianity in action. And through these services, the erring, the bewildered and fearful, the unfortunate, are restored to their proper relationship with God and their fellow men. In every corner of the world where need exists, The Salvation Army seeks to meet that need.

Karaffa Speeds Rebuilding Job As Potters' Opener Nears

Team Has Height, Little Experience

By CHUCK CRONIN

With less than a week remaining before the start of the 1958-59 campaign, East Liverpool High School's basketball coach, John Karaffa, isn't exactly bubbling with enthusiasm as he ponders the fortunes of the latest edition of the Blue and White.

Faced with a major rebuilding job due to graduation which claimed an entire varsity, Karaffa will have to mold a starting five around one letterman.

ANY STARTING combination Karaffa selects will be lacking in overall experience. But the Potter mentor has available three players who tower well above the six-foot mark and can rely on several of last year's reserves to supply necessary speed and shooting power.

The Potters open an 18-game schedule Dec. 5 against Farrell at Memorial Auditorium. The prospect of facing an opponent which East Liverpool has not beaten in three years adds to Karaffa's list of worries.

The Potters have been working hard in drills the last two weeks and have fared well against district opponents in scrimmage games.

The team was scheduled to travel to New Castle today—weather permitting—for its fourth scrimmage in pre-season activity. In the first scrimmage of the season, the Potters lost to powerful Youngstown Chaney, but have defeated Beaver and Boardman since.

SCRIMMAGE contests have revealed that the team needs much more polish on passing and all-around teamwork, but Karaffa said he was well pleased with the shooting and rebounding displayed by the young group.

Emphasis at nightly practice drills has been on "finding just the right combination" Karaffa said, in addition to adding accuracy at the foul stripe.

Inability to connect on foul shots was partly to blame for a mediocre 9-9 season last year, Karaffa pointed out, with at least five defeats coming because of inaccurate free throws. "We could have been 14-4 in 1957 if our foul shooting hadn't been so poor," the Potter mentor explained.

Karaffa seems to have plenty of rebounding material in Robert Beatty, 6-3 senior, Ray Bigelow, 6-5 junior, and Clark Hager, 6-5 senior, while Jan Allen, the team's only letterman, Glenn Cunningham, a 6-foot senior, and Kenny Cunningham, 5-10 sophomore whiz, figure to provide adequate point making.

BEATTY, UP from last year's reserves, is fast and powerful (200 pounds) and is a leading varsity candidate. Bigelow, tallest on the squad, probably will do most of the rebounding and can also score well from close range, Karaffa said.

Glenn Cunningham is a first-rate driver, while Allan can hit from any angle and is considered an excellent set-shot and floor man, Karaffa pointed out.

Defensively, Bob Mackall, a 5-11 junior, and Phil Chan, a 5-6 junior, are standouts and likely to draw starting assignments. Mackall is most effective in scoring from close range, while Chan hits well on set shots from far out.

Karaffa has several promising candidates in James Mahone, 6-1½ junior, George Owens, 5-10 senior, and Joe Burke, a 6-foot junior, and any of the three can be listed as starters, Karaffa said.

Dave Zelch, 6-foot junior, Craig Burbick, 6-foot junior, and Kenny Miller are also down for varsity action when needed.

Three new opponents are listed on this year's 18 - game schedule, including 11 at home. Columbus East, Mansfield and Weirton are new foes from last year, replacing Greensburg (Pa.), Bridgeport and Ashland.

Columbus East and Mansfield will both visit East Liverpool, while the Weirton game is away. The Potters boast a victory in their only encounter with the Columbus school, winning, 38-25, in 1929. Against Mansfield, the Potters have five victories and two defeats, and against Weirton four victories and four losses.

KARAFFA IS worried about erratic ball handling shown by the club in recent drills, but is hoping the rash of mistakes will subside by the first few games.

He is pleased with the team's operation of a fast break attack, but pointed out that "the offense needs lots of polish on working options and strategic patterns."

"We're a little behind in teamwork," the Potter mentor declared, "as the boys have never worked together as a unit until this year."

Defensively, the Potters will employ a tight man-for-man press, full-court, at times, and will play for possession after one shot by opponents, figuring that height will be valuable in that respect, Karaffa said.

Schedule-wise, the former Ohio State University star figures all games tough, but listed Midland, Farrell, Columbus East, Salem and Wellsville as high points on the slate.

Karaffa guided the Potters to a 14-8 season record in 1956-57, his first as head coach at East Liverpool. The Potters dumped Steubenville Big Red to capture the Class AA sectional title.

Karaffa is being assisted this year by Frank Chan, former East Liverpool and Washington and Jefferson standout in basketball. Chan will handle the reserve squad. He succeeds Dan Altamese, who moved on to Jackson-Milton.

Chan's reserves also will lack experience and height. Outside of Burbick who has been drilling with the Jayvees, David Bucheit is the only cager who hits the six-foot mark. He is a 6-foot sophomore.

Leading reserve candidates in addition to Burbick, are Ron Clarke, 5-4, Ken Miller, 5-9, Cookie Goodballet, 5-7, and Mike Geon, 5-11, all sophomores.

Chan's second unit will include Craig O'Neil 5-8, Bob Christian, 5-9, Joe Thompson, 5-9 and Gary Montgomery, 5-10, all sophomores, and Burke, 5-9, a junior.

Other candidates are Perry Hurst, 5-4, Tim Archer, 5-6, and Charles Bosco, 5-9, sophomores.

Baylor Racks Up 26 During Lakers Win Over Royals

By The Associated Press

Minneapolis' Elgin Baylor, a rookie in the National Basketball Assn., is finding the professional game very much similar to the college variety.

One of the most prolific scorers in the country last year as a collegian, the All-America has turned into one of the top point-getters in the pro league.

The former Seattle star Friday night scored 26 points as he led the Lakers to a 114-93 victory over Cincinnati. The output raised his league leading point total to 449, an average of almost 25 points a game.

The Lakers, hitting 51 per cent of their shots, coasted after compiling a 20-point lead in the second quarter.

Syracuse was in the game until the start of the last period at Detroit. Leading 75-72, the Nats were only able to score two field goals in the first 11 minutes of the quarter. The Pistons' Chuck Noble led the winners with 20 points.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 29, 1958 EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW PAGE 8

DeJohn Wins By Decision

NEW YORK (AP) — Mike DeJohn says all he needs is action to make him a top contender for the heavyweight title. And he may get that soon.

The tall, lackadaisical Syracuse fighter squeezed out a close but unanimous 10-round decision over stocky Willi Besmanoff Friday night that put him in line for two high level scraps.

Promoter Norm Rothschild wants to match him with Zora Folley at Syracuse in January and the International Boxing Club offered him a shot at the winner of the Pat McMurtry-Nino Valdes Dec. 19 fight at Madison Square Garden for February.

"I'll take them both if I can work it out," said the 6-3, 202¾ pound DeJohn. "I know I need plenty of work to keep in top shape and give me the fighting edge I need. This fight with Besmanoff was only the fourth for me this year and the first since August 15 when I lost that split decision to Valdes.

"I think I can go all the way and make a lot of trouble for Patterson (heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson) if I ever got the chance."

Mike, however, was no ball of fire against Besmanoff at the garden. Willi, who now fights out of Milwaukee, wasn't much to rave about either. Maybe it was their contrasting styles.

Short-armed Willi, 5-11 and 201 pounds, chased the angular DeJohn most of the 10 rounds but couldn't do much but belt to the body. Often he was low and he was warned several times by Referee Al Berl.

Berl had DeJohn ahead, 6-3-1 in rounds while the two judges, Jack Gordon and Leo Birbaum each had it 5-4-1 for DeJohn. The AP card had DeJohn in front, 5-4-1.

Season Ticket Deadline Monday At Wellsville

Don Lowe, Wellsville High faculty manager, announced today that Monday night will be the deadline for the purchase of season tickets for nine Wellsville home basketball games.

Tickets, which cost $7.65, may be obtained by contacting Lowe at the school Monday or at his home in the evening. His phone number is LE 2-2076.

World Flyweight King Offered Coast Fight

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Argentina's Pascual Perez, world flyweight champion, has been offered a fight here next year, regardless of whether he whips Dommy Ursua in Manila Dec. 15.

Matchmaker Geroge Parnassus of the Olympic Club suggested Perez meet Mario de Leon, 112-pound champion of Mexico, if he beats Ursua. He offered the Argentine boxer a $30,000 guarantee. Perez stopped here en route to his Philippines assignment.

Sale Of Forbes Field To Pitt Slated Dec. 9

Final approval of the sale of Forbes Field to the University of Pittsburgh is expected Tuesday, Dec. 9, when the regular meeting of the University Board of Trustees is held, Chancellor Edward H. Litchfield announced Friday.

The Pirates will continue to use the ball park in Oakland until the proposed Northside Stadium is available, possibly within five years. Once the Pirates depart, the university will begin construction of buildings to house six professional schools.

The university will lease the field back to the Pirates for five years while the stadium is being built.

Chancellor Litchfield said Pitt is paying "less than $2,000,000" for Forbes Field, at a price of $7.22 per square foot. Forbes Field, which contains seven acres, is assessed at $919,246, of which $242,650 is for land and $676,596 for buildings.

Property assessments usually run about half of market value.

Meanwhile, speculation arose that acquisition of the ball park would give both the city and county the impetus to pledge funds needed to acquire land for the proposed 50,000-seat stadium.

It was presumed Mayor Lawrence, who is vitally interested in pushing plans for the new stadium, will want to take firm action before he assumes the governorship January 20.

Thus, such a decision conceivably could be made within the next six weeks.

Yesterday's announcement by Chancellor Litchfield gave a push to Pitt's long-range campus development program.

As far as the Pirates are concerned they will never lack for a playing field here, Chancellor Litchfield said.

"We will never put the heat on the Pirates." he said.

Browns To Battle 'Skins On Sunday

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

You National Football League Eastern Division clubs, particularly Washington, look out Sunday! The Brown gang — Cleveland, Paul and Jimmy — are on the prowl.

This trio, Jimmy the fullback who plays for Paul the coach of the Cleveland Browns, has set its sights on an eighth divisional title in nine years and plans to use the Washington Redskins as a springboard when they get together in Cleveland.

The Browns are a game ahead of the second-place New York Giants and must keep winning lest the Giants catch up before the two meet Dec. 14 in New York. Cleveland has a 7-2 record, New York 6-3.

The Baltimore Colts also have the same idea in the Western Division. They entertain the San Francisco 49ers in their season home finale and a victory would clinch at least a tie for the Western title.

Baltimore, with a 8-1 record, can go a step further and grab all the marbles if the Chicago Bears, 6-3, fall before the Pittsburgh Steelers in Pittsburgh.

New York meets the Philadelphia Eagles and the Los Angeles Rams play the Cards in Chicago. Detroit defeated Green Bay 24-14 Thanksgiving Day and is idle until next weekend.

Jimmy Brown leads the NFL in rushing and every yard he gains establishes a record. Two weeks ago he broke the record formerly held by Eagles blockbuster Steve Van Buren, of 1,146 yards. He now has 1,229 yards.

Baltimore which has lost only to New York, still has two more chances on the West Coast against Los Angeles and the 49ers to put a ribbon its first divisional title.

Pittsburgh's Steelers, sparked by quarterback Bobby Layne, has a four-game winning streak that has carried them to third place in the Eastern Division. The Bears, paying their first visit to Pittsburgh since 1947, has added Rudy Bukich, ex-Redskin, to a quarterback crew that includes Zeke Bratkowski, Ed Brown and George Blanda.

Los Angeles hopes to get back on the beam after a second half whipping last week by the Colts. The Cards, tied with the Eagles for the bottom of the Eastern Division with a 2-6-1 record, have only a tie to show in their last five games.

Pimlico Special Will Be Special In Several Ways

BALTIMORE (AP) — Today's running of the $50,000 Pimlico Special will be special in more ways than one.

It'll be run only for the benefit of the owners, the jockeys and for the improvement of the breed.

There'll be no betting.

With only four thoroughbreds entered and because Vertex is the standout choice, the Maryland Racing Commission gave track officials permission to run the mile and three-sixteenths event as a sporting gesture. There will be a substitute race for the bettors.

Maryland-bred Vertex headed into the special with three straight victories. The 4-year-old son of The Rhymer is owned by Frank A. Piarulli and J. J. Brunetti. Others scheduled to go to the post at 4 p.m. EST are Roy E. Faircloth's Sharpsburg, Howell E. Jackson's Tick Tock and William S. Miller's Better Bee.

A race horse in Melbourne has been named Rolling Pin. She is a filly sired by Home Defence.

Karaffa Speeds Rebuilding Job As Potters' Opener Nears

Team Has Height, Little Experience

By CHUCK CRONIN

With less than a week remaining before the start of the 1958-59 campaign, East Liverpool High School's basketball coach, John Karaffa, isn't exactly bubbling with enthusiasm as he ponders the fortunes of the latest edition of the Blue and White.

Faced with a major rebuilding job due to graduation which claimed an entire varsity, Karaffa will have to mold a starting five around one letterman.

ANY STARTING combination Karaffa selects will be lacking in overall experience. But the Potter mentor has available three players who tower well above the six-foot mark and can rely on several of last year's reserves to supply necessary speed and shooting power.

The Potters open an 18-game schedule Dec. 5 against Farrell at Memorial Auditorium. The prospect of facing an opponent which East Liverpool has not beaten in three years adds to Karaffa's list of worries.

The Potters have been working hard in drills the last two weeks and have fared well against district opponents in scrimmage games.

The team was scheduled to travel to New Castle today—weather permitting—for its fourth scrimmage in pre-season activity. In the first scrimmage of the season, the Potters lost to powerful Youngstown Chaney, but have defeated Beaver and Boardman since.

SCRIMMAGE contests have revealed that the team needs much more polish on passing and all-around teamwork, but Karaffa said he was well pleased with the shooting and rebounding displayed by the young group.

Emphasis at nightly practice drills has been on "finding just the right combination" Karaffa said, in addition to adding accuracy at the foul stripe.

Inability to connect on foul shots was partly to blame for a mediocre 9-9 season last year, Karaffa pointed out, with at least five defeats coming because of inaccurate free throws. "We could have been 14-4 in 1957 if our foul shooting hadn't been so poor," the Potter mentor explained.

Karaffa seems to have plenty of rebounding material in Robert Beatty, 6-3 senior, Ray Bigelow, 6-5 junior, and Clark Hager, 6-5 senior, while Jan Allen, the team's only letterman, Glenn Cunningham, a 6-foot senior, and Kenny Cunningham, 5-10 sophomore whiz, figure to provide adequate point making.

BEATTY, UP from last year's reserves, is fast and powerful (200 pounds) and is a leading varsity candidate. Bigelow, tallest on the squad, probably will do most of the rebounding and can also score well from close range, Karaffa said.

Glenn Cunningham is a first-rate driver, while Allan can hit from any angle and is considered an excellent set-shot and floor man, Karaffa pointed out.

Defensively, Bob Mackall, a 5-11 junior, and Phil Chan, a 5-6 junior, are standouts and likely to draw starting assignments. Mackall is most effective in scoring from close range, while Chan hits well on set shots from far out.

Karaffa has several promising candidates in James Mahone, 6-1½ junior, George Owens, 5-10 senior, and Joe Burke, a 6-foot junior, and any of the three can be listed as starters, Karaffa said.

Dave Zelch, 6-foot junior, Craig Burbick, 6-foot junior, and Kenny Miller are also down for varsity action when needed.

Three new opponents are listed on this year's 18 - game schedule, including 11 at home. Columbus East, Mansfield and Weirton are new foes from last year, replacing Greensburg (Pa.), Bridgeport and Ashland.

Columbus East and Mansfield will both visit East Liverpool, while the Weirton game is away. The Potters boast a victory in their only encounter with the Columbus school, winning, 38-25, in 1929. Against Mansfield, the Potters have five victories and two defeats, and against Weirton four victories and four losses.

KARAFFA IS worried about erratic ball handling shown by the club in recent drills, but is hoping the rash of mistakes will subside by the first few games.

He is pleased with the team's operation of a fast break attack, but pointed out that "the offense needs lots of polish on working options and strategic patterns."

"We're a little behind in teamwork," the Potter mentor declared, "as the boys have never worked together as a unit until this year."

Defensively, the Potters will employ a tight man-for-man press, full-court, at times, and will play for possession after one shot by opponents, figuring that height will be valuable in that respect, Karaffa said.

Schedule-wise, the former Ohio State University star figures all games tough, but listed Midland, Farrell, Columbus East, Salem and Wellsville as high points on the slate.

Karaffa guided the Potters to a 14-8 season record in 1956-57, his first as head coach at East Liverpool. The Potters dumped Steubenville Big Red to capture the Class AA sectional title.

Karaffa is being assisted this year by Frank Chan, former East Liverpool and Washington and Jefferson standout in basketball. Chan will handle the reserve squad. He succeeds Dan Altamese, who moved on to Jackson-Milton.

Chan's reserves also will lack experience and height. Outside of Burbick who has been drilling with the Jayvees, David Bucheit is the only cager who hits the six-foot mark. He is a 6-foot sophomore.

Leading reserve candidates in addition to Burbick, are Ron Clarke, 5-4, Ken Miller, 5-9, Cookie Goodballet, 5-7, and Mike Geon, 5-11, all sophomores.

Chan's second unit will include Craig O'Neil 5-8, Bob Christian, 5-9, Joe Thompson, 5-9 and Gary Montgomery, 5-10, all sophomores, and Burke, 5-9, a junior.

Other candidates are Perry Hurst, 5-4, Tim Archer, 5-6, and Charles Bosco, 5-9, sophomores.

By The Associated Press

Minneapolis' Elgin Baylor, a rookie in the National Basketball Assn., is finding the professional game very much similar to the college variety.

One of the most prolific scorers in the country last year as a collegian, the All-America has turned into one of the top point-getters in the pro league.

The former Seattle star Friday night scored 26 points as he led the Lakers to a 114-93 victory over Cincinnati. The output raised his league leading point total to 449, an average of almost 25 points a game.

The Lakers, hitting 51 per cent of their shots, coasted after compiling a 20-point lead in the second quarter.

Syracuse was in the game until the start of the last period at Detroit. Leading 75-72, the Nats were only able to score two field goals in the first 11 minutes of the quarter. The Pistons' Chuck Noble led the winners with 20 points.

DeJohn Wins By Decision

NEW YORK (AP) — Mike DeJohn says all he needs is action to make him a top contender for the heavyweight title. And he may get that soon.

The tall, lackadaisical Syracuse fighter squeezed out a close but unanimous 10-round decision over stocky Willi Besmanoff Friday night that put him in line for two high level scraps.

Promoter Norm Rothschild wants to match him with Zora Folley at Syracuse in January and the International Boxing Club offered him a shot at the winner of the Pat McMurtry-Nino Valdes Dec. 19 fight at Madison Square Garden for February.

"I'll take them both if I can work it out," said the 6-3, 202¾ pound DeJohn. "I know I need plenty of work to keep in top shape and give me the fighting edge I need. This fight with Besmanoff was only the fourth for me this year and the first since August 15 when I lost that split decision to Valdes.

"I think I can go all the way and make a lot of trouble for Patterson (heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson) if I ever got the chance."

Mike, however, was no ball of fire against Besmanoff at the garden. Willi, who now fights out of Milwaukee, wasn't much to rave about either. Maybe it was their contrasting styles.

Short-armed Willi, 5-11 and 201 pounds, chased the angular DeJohn most of the 10 rounds but couldn't do much but belt to the body. Often he was low and he was warned several times by Referee Al Berl.

Berl had DeJohn ahead, 6-3-1 in rounds while the two judges, Jack Gordon and Leo Birbaum each had it 5-4-1 for DeJohn. The AP card had DeJohn in front, 5-4-1.

Season Ticket Deadline Monday At Wellsville

Don Lowe, Wellsville High faculty manager, announced today that Monday night will be the deadline for the purchase of season tickets for nine Wellsville home basketball games.

Tickets, which cost $7.65, may be obtained by contacting Lowe at the school Monday or at his home in the evening. His phone number is LE 2-2076.

World Flyweight King Offered Coast Fight

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Argentina's Pascual Perez, world flyweight champion, has been offered a fight here next year, regardless of whether he whips Dommy Ursua in Manila Dec. 15.

Matchmaker Geroge Parnassus of the Olympic Club suggested Perez meet Mario de Leon, 112-pound champion of Mexico, if he beats Ursua. He offered the Argentine boxer a $30,000 guarantee. Perez stopped here en route to his Philippines assignment.

Sale Of Forbes Field To Pitt Slated Dec. 9

Final approval of the sale of Forbes Field to the University of Pittsburgh is expected Tuesday, Dec. 9, when the regular meeting of the University Board of Trustees is held, Chancellor Edward H. Litchfield announced Friday.

The Pirates will continue to use the ball park in Oakland until the proposed Northside Stadium is available, possibly within five years. Once the Pirates depart, the university will begin construction of buildings to house six professional schools.

The university will lease the field back to the Pirates for five years while the stadium is being built.

Chancellor Litchfield said Pitt is paying "less than $2,000,000" for Forbes Field, at a price of $7.22 per square foot. Forbes Field, which contains seven acres, is assessed at $919,246, of which $242,650 is for land and $676,596 for buildings.

Property assessments usually run about half of market value.

Meanwhile, speculation arose that acquisition of the ball park would give both the city and county the impetus to pledge funds needed to acquire land for the proposed 50,000-seat stadium.

It was presumed Mayor Lawrence, who is vitally interested in pushing plans for the new stadium, will want to take firm action before he assumes the governorship January 20.

Thus, such a decision conceivably could be made within the next six weeks.

Yesterday's announcement by Chancellor Litchfield gave a push to Pitt's long-range campus development program.

As far as the Pirates are concerned they will never lack for a playing field here, Chancellor Litchfield said.

"We will never put the heat on the Pirates." he said.

Browns To Battle 'Skins On Sunday

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

You National Football League Eastern Division clubs, particularly Washington, look out Sunday! The Brown gang — Cleveland, Paul and Jimmy — are on the prowl.

This trio, Jimmy the fullback who plays for Paul the coach of the Cleveland Browns, has set its sights on an eighth divisional title in nine years and plans to use the Washington Redskins as a springboard when they get together in Cleveland.

The Browns are a game ahead of the second-place New York Giants and must keep winning lest the Giants catch up before the two meet Dec. 14 in New York. Cleveland has a 7-2 record, New York 6-3.

The Baltimore Colts also have the same idea in the Western Division. They entertain the San Francisco 49ers in their season home finale and a victory would clinch at least a tie for the Western title.

Baltimore, with a 8-1 record, can go a step further and grab all the marbles if the Chicago Bears, 6-3, fall before the Pittsburgh Steelers in Pittsburgh.

New York meets the Philadelphia Eagles and the Los Angeles Rams play the Cards in Chicago. Detroit defeated Green Bay 24-14 Thanksgiving Day and is idle until next weekend.

Jimmy Brown leads the NFL in rushing and every yard he gains establishes a record. Two weeks ago he broke the record formerly held by Eagles blockbuster Steve Van Buren, of 1,146 yards. He now has 1,229 yards.

Baltimore which has lost only to New York, still has two more chances on the West Coast against Los Angeles and the 49ers to put a ribbon its first divisional title.

Pittsburgh's Steelers, sparked by quarterback Bobby Layne, has a four-game winning streak that has carried them to third place in the Eastern Division. The Bears, paying their first visit to Pittsburgh since 1947, has added Rudy Bukich, ex-Redskin, to a quarterback crew that includes Zeke Bratkowski, Ed Brown and George Blanda.

Los Angeles hopes to get back on the beam after a second half whipping last week by the Colts. The Cards, tied with the Eagles for the bottom of the Eastern Division with a 2-6-1 record, have only a tie to show in their last five games.

Army Guns For First Unbeaten Season In 9 Years Today

Air Academy Pitching For Cotton Bowl

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

While the two service veterans, Army and Navy, clashed in Philadelphia, the rookie Air Force Academy made its final pitch for a Cotton Bowl berth today as major college football called it quits for 1958.

Army was looking for its first unbeaten season in nine years as the Cadets put their 8-0-1 record against Navy (6-2).

But the Air Force, also 8-0-1, needed only a victory at Colorado (6-2) to nail a New Year's Day date against Texas Christian at Dallas. The word is that Air Force, tied by Iowa, can cap its first season as a major team with a bowl trip, win, lose or draw.

Florida and Clemson also could make a bowl today. The Gator Bowl Friday named Florida (9-3-1) for one of its two empty berths—if the Gators beat Miami (1-7). Clemson (7-2) reportedly can have the Sugar Bowl spot opposite unbeaten, untied Louisiana State by beating Furman (2-6).

Mississippi (7-2), South Carolina (7-3), Alabama (5-3-1), Georgia Tech (5-3-1) and Vanderbilt (5-1-3) are in the running for the other Gator Bowl bid. Mississippi played Mississippi State, Alabama met Auburn, Tech played Georgia and Vanderbilt tussled with Tennessee in traditional closers. South Carolina finished by beating Wake Forest Thanksgiving Day.

The other major bowls were filled last week. It's Iowa and California in the Rose Bowl, Oklahoma and Syracuse in the Orange Bowl. All but Oklahoma have finished their regular schedules. The Sooners (8-1) played Oklahoma State.

Louisiana State, No. 1 in The Associated Press poll ahead of unbeaten but bowl-banned Auburn, also has completed its season. Texas Christian closed shop against Southern Methodist, a Sugar Bowl darkhorse.

Other major games were Notre Dame-Southern California, Rice-Baylor and Houston-Texas Tech.

Buffalo Friday night turned down a trip to the Tangerine Bowl in Orlando, Fla., because of racial discrimination which would sideline two players. Team members previously had accepted the invitation, but the university had final say.

Student Admits Slaying Father, Mother, Sister

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — A telephone call summoned sheriff's deputies to a suburban home shortly after midnight Friday night where they found a family shot to death.

Found were the bodies of William L. Andrews, 50; his wife, Opal, 41, and a daughter, Jennie Marie, 20. All had been shot with a .22 caliber rifle.

Undersheriff Al Sachen said a son, Lowell Lee Andrews, 18, a University of Kansas student, was being held after orally admitting the shootings.

He told officers he did not know why he did it, Sachen said. It was young Andrews who telephoned them to the scene, and was waiting when they got there.

Young Andrews told officers he had tossed the weapons in the Kaw River near Lawrence, Sachen said.

The coroner's office fixed the time of death around 7 p.m. Friday.

The elder Andrews was a Trans World Airlines mechanic on strike along with other members of the Machinists Union as a result of contract differences.

No charges were filed immediately.

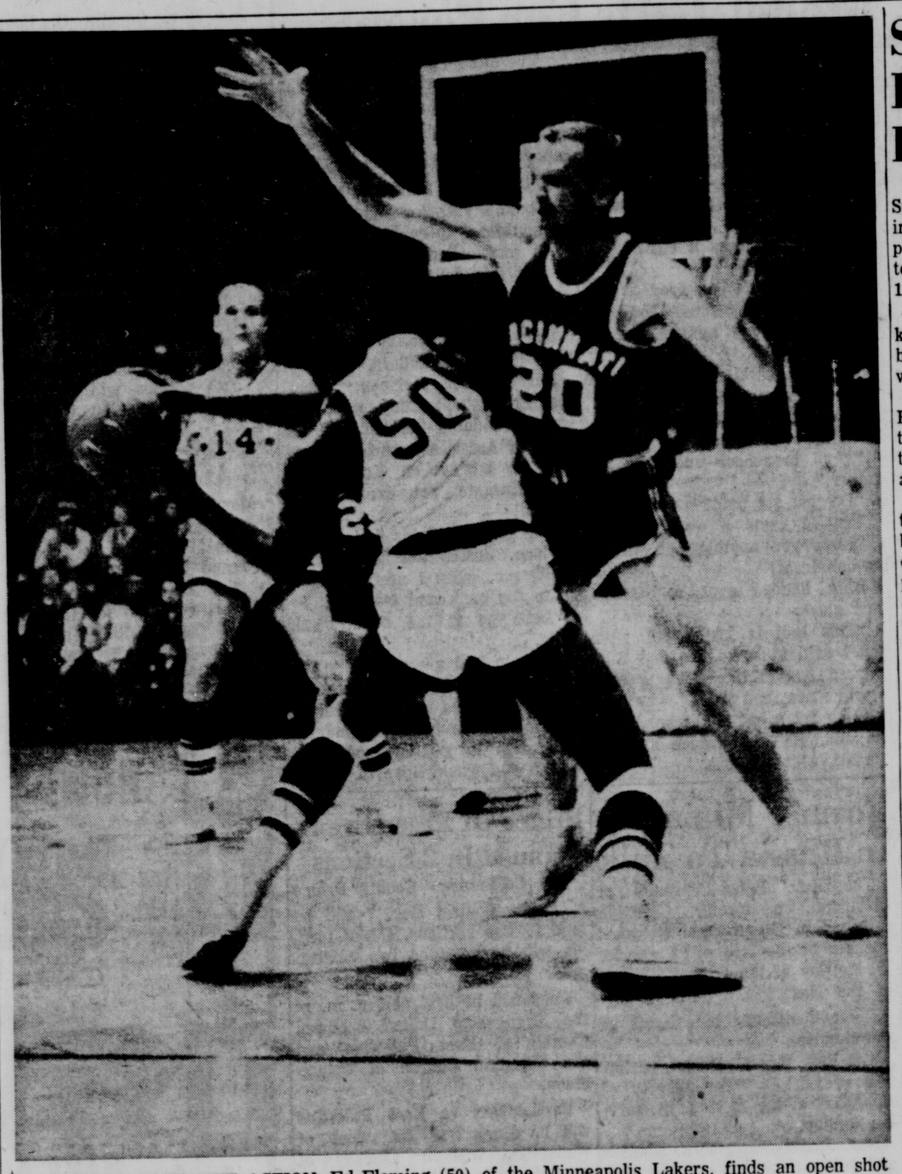

French Vote Sunday For National Assembly

PARIS (AP)—Frenchmen vote Sunday for the National Assembly which will set the new Fifth Republic on its course. Results of last Sunday's first round voting indicated the new assembly will lean strongly to the right.

In the runoff, 426 deputies for European France will be chosen to sit beside the 39 who won majorities in the preliminary round.

Many leading liberal and moderate politicians were knocked out last Sunday, leaving the prospect of an assembly dominated by the right wing. Premier De Gaulle apparently had hoped for an assembly of moderates leaning to the left.

One of the largest blocs of rightists deputies will come from Algeria, where 66 seats are being filled in one-round elections which began Friday and end Sunday. Mobile polls are moving through the Algerian countryside. The cities will vote Sunday.

EVASIVE DEFENSIVE ACTION. Ed Fleming (50) of the Minneapolis Lakers, finds an open shot around Tom Marshall (20) of the Cincinnati Royals to Larry Foust (14) who made his way for the Lakers' basket during the Lakers-Royals basketball game in Minneapolis Friday night. (UPI Telephoto)

Aussie Halts Winning Way Of U.S. Star

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

SYDNEY (AP)—Wimbledon and U.S. champion Ashley Cooper of Australia halted the sensational winning streak of 18-year-old Earl Buchholz, of St. Louis, today by winning the New South Wales tennis championship 6-0, 6-1, 7-9, 6-2.

Obviously nervous and well below the form which marked his earlier victories over teammate Alex Olmedo and Australians Mal Anderson and Roy Emerson, the young American junior proved no match for the hard hitting Aussie Davisu.

Buchholz was able to win only 10 points in the first set and 12 in the second before he mustered a brief but shortlived rally which won him the third.

The American camp was not heartened over the setback.

"We are very proud of the way Buchholz has played all week," said Perry Jones, U.S. Davis Cup captain. "He was up against the world's best amateur in Cooper and he was playing his first important final."

Earlier, pretty 19-year-old Renee Schuurman of South Africa won the women's title by defeating Jan Lehane, Australia junior, 6-2, 4-6, 6-4.

The junior singles crown went to Ken Fletcher who beat Martin Mulligan 9-7, 5-7, 6-4. Buchholz withdrew from the junior competition Thursday after he had beaten Emerson in the men's semi-finals.

Entertainment Stars Vie In Golf Tourney

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Stars of the entertainment world tee off today in a 36-hole golf tournament billed as the first "World Entertainment Championships."

Algerian Insurgents Say 301 French Killed

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—An Algerian insurgent government spokesman said today Algerian nationalist fighters had killed 301 French soldiers and wounded 145 others in operations between Nov. 19 and 26.

The spokesman released a communique which reported 7 ambushes, 17 encounters, 15 French posts attacked with mortar and machinegun and partly destroyed, 8 French centers attacked by Algerian commandos, 2 military trains blown up by mines, 16 combat vehicles destroyed, 53 weapons captured.

The communique did not mentioned Algerian casualties.

Calm Pilot Lands Disabled Airliner With 41 Aboard

BOSTON (AP)—A calm United Air Lines captain landed a big DC6 plane on a blanket of foam Friday night after circling Logan International Airport for an hour while his flight engineer manhandled the wheels into landing position.

The plane, en route from Chicago, skipped a scheduled landing at Hartford, Conn., when the hydraulic system operating the landing gear failed to function.

There were 41 aboard, including the crew of four with Capt. Loras Diedrich, 37, Winfield, Ill., in command.

He brought the four-engined plane down smoothly in a three-inch thick blanket of foam spread by emergency crews for a slide in case the plane made a belly landing.

Passengers agreed there was no panic or obvious fright in the passenger compartment.

In the plane Flight Engineer Raymond Hackett, Chicago, moved a mountain of baggage and ripped up floor boards to get into the hydraulic pit where the wheel machinery is located.

He said he found faulty wires caused the trouble, but didn't have the equipment to make repairs in the air.

"I switched onto manual operation," he said. "As we circled Logan I lowered the wheels manually, using my hands and feet to do so."

Ted Williams Reported Having Ankle Trouble

BOSTON (AP)—The Herald said today that Boston Red Sox slugger Ted Williams is having "more ankle trouble."

The paper said in a story under the byline of Sports Editor Ed Costello that the 40-year-old American League batting champion "has contacted a Boston doctor about his latest ailment."

The Herald story said that Williams' ailment is in the same area as a hairline fracture he suffered while fishing a year ago. That injury forced Williams to pass up much of spring training, but he finished with a .328 batting mark, 26 homers and 85 runs batted in.

NATIONAL CITY, Calif. (AP) — Mrs. Joanne Ostberg drove her car with one hand while she helped deliver her sister's baby with the other. And she didn't forget to keep the horn blowing to warn traffic. Mrs. Carlos Long, 21, and her 7 - pound son, Brett, came through the ordeal fine. He was born on the way to a hospital.

Leafs' Owner Will Be Boss During Games

TORONTO (AP)—Veteran winger Bert Olmstead will be in command when the last place Toronto Maple Leafs face the Chicago Black Hawks in a National Hockey League game tonight.

Or will he?

"Olmstead will handle the club during the workouts under my supervision and I will be behind the bench for games," snapped General Manager George Imlach, after he fired Coach Billy Reay Friday night.

Imlach, who became GM only a week ago, added that Olmstead will be in charge of the dressing room.

The inference was unmistakable that Imlach would give the orders to Olmstead during the games—and that Olmstead better carry them out or else. His appointment as player-coach was on a temporary basis. Imlach implied more heads might roll if the club doesn't begin to pick up steam.

When Imlach became general manager, he gave the Leafs four games to improve. In that span, they won two and lost two.

Reay left no boubt as to his feelings.

"I've been coaching since I was 24," said the 40-year-old Reay. "I've always worked my way up to this job, then I got undermined."

Illness Forces U.S. Net Star From Tourney

SYDNEY (AP)—Ham Richardson, suffering recurring reactions from diabetes, today was forced out of next week's Victorian Tennis Championships and placed under a physician's care.

U.S. Davis Cup Capt. Perry Jones emphasized however, that America's number one player is not seriously ill and rest measures are being taken to point him for the Davis Cup interzone and challenge round matches.

Jones said Richardson asked for a rest after his poor showing in the New South Wales Championships during the past week.

Pirate Rookie Stevens To Enter Armed Forces

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Rookie first baseman R. C. Stevens of the Pittsburgh Pirates will become the third member of the club to enter the Armed Forces on a six - month tour this year.

Stevens, who will begin his Army tour Sunday, expects to be discharged about June 1. Outfielder Roberto Clemente and pitcher Ron Blackburn are currently serving six - month tours.

Sugar Bowl's Expected To Pick Clemson

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Sugar Bowl, freed from a ban on interracial sports, still was expected to choose Clemson today to face Louisiana State in the Jan. 1 game.

A federal court ruling Friday knocked out Louisiana's 1956 law banning competition between white and Negro athletes.

However, a ruling by the LSU Board of Supervisors bans the team from playing integrated teams not only in Louisiana but also outside the state.

The federal court ruling did not touch a phase of the law which bans segregated seating at sports events in the state. That was expected to rule out the possibility of getting eighth-ranked Air Force which was expected to go to the Cotton Bowl anyway.

The Sugar Bowl, however, does not require racial identification before a ticket is bought. A few years ago it removed a stipulation printed on most of its tickets that they could be used "only by the Caucasian race."

Navy played in the Sugar Bowl in 1955 when segregated seating was enforced and before the law banning interracial athletics went tinto effect.

The Defense Department declined comment on the segregation ruling. The Army previously said it would not accept any bowl invitation from anyone.

The segregation ruling came in a case filed by Negro boxer Joe Dorsey who contended the law was jeopardizing his career. The decision was signed by Judge John Minor Wisdom of the U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals and U.S. District Judges Herbert Christenberry and J. Skelly Wright.

Amputee Keeps Vow As First Team As Coach Posts Victory

BIGFORK, Minn. (AP) — Fourteen years ago Jim McGarry lay writhing alongside a St. Paul railroad track, his legs crushed by a switch engine he failed to see as he was chasing a ball.

A few hours later he was given the last rites of his church.

But he recovered and, although the amputation of both of his legs ended forever his dreams of stardom in sports, he vowed never to leave athletics.

A few days ago 27-year-old Jim McGarry sat in a wheelchair and watched his Bigfork basketball team defeat Littlefork 58-45 for his first victory as a high school coach.

This is all the husky, smiling young man has ever asked.

Within a few years after his operation he was playing basketball from a wheelchair and excelled in the sport.

In 1949, when wheelchair basketball was thriving because of World War II casualties, McGarry averaged 25 points a game. His team, the "Rolling Gophers," gained the finals of the National Wheelchair Tournament and Jim was named to the all-star team.

After graduating from St. Thomas in St. Paul, he came to this northwoods hamlet to become a history instructor and assistant coach. Now he is head coach.

Ike's Pulling Privately For Army Victory

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower, a football player years ago at West Point, is pulling privately for Army to beat Navy today.

He is doing his rooting privately because as president he also is commander in chief of all the armed forces — and as such maintains an official neutrality.

Eisenhower hasn't attended an Army-Navy varsity game since he became president because, friends say, he feels sure he would forget about impartiality and cheer for his alma mater.

The President may watch today's game at Philadelphia on television — in the comfort of his vacation residence at the Augusta National Golf Club. Or he might pass up the game in favor of a round of golf — as he has done in some other years.

In his student days Eisenhower was a promising halfback until he injured his knee in 1912, his second year at West Point. That injury — which still bothers him occasionally — ended his gridiron career.

The President planned to take it generally easy today, with one major business conference just behind him and another coming up Sunday.

He met all morning Friday with top Pentagon and Budget Bureau officials on planning defense spending for the fiscal year starting July 1.

After that session Secretary of Defense McElroy left open the possibility military expenditures will run a billion dollars more in that year than the estimated $40,800,000,000 this year.

Sunday the President will confer here with Secretary of State Dulles. They will discuss the Berlin picture and other international problems.

Three Brothers, 10, 11 And 12 Admit Burglaries

CLEVELAND (AP) — Three West Side brothers aged 10, 11 and 12 were arrested at their home Friday night. Police said they admitted taking $1,300 from St. Patrick's Catholic School in four burglaries within the last two months.

Mrs. Anton Chesek, 49, wife of the custodian at the school, surprised the youngsters Friday afternoon and grabbed one of the boys. His shouts brought his brothers and they kicked and punched the woman until she released her hold, she told police.

The woman knew the boys and gave their names to officers.

Patrolman Vincent Gallagher, who made the arrests, and Lt. Peter Allen said the boys admitted looting and ransacking about 10 homes in the area and taking $950 from a filing cabinet in St. Patrick's School Oct. 10, another $351 from the same cabinet Nov. 12 and $61 from the custodian's apartment Oct. 19. The larger sums represented collections by nuns from pupils who were selling Christmas cards.

Officers said the boys were part of a family of 14 children and that both of their parents held fulltime jobs.

Wyoming U. Coach To Talk At School

SMITHVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Everette Shelton, head coach at the University of Wyoming, will be the featured speaker Saturday, Dec. 6, at the 14th annual Northern Ohio Basketball Coaching School here.

Wilbur Burkey, director of the school, said some 300 coaches would attand.

L. B. Hennon, coach of Wampum High School, which won the 1958 Pennsylvania championship, and Jack Swinderman of Dover High, will round out the clinic staff. Swinderman will bring his Dover squad to demonstrate his basketball theories.

Survived Plunge

ROANOKE, Va. (AP) — Dr. Ralph W. Walton, 71, a one-armed physician from Montclair, N. J., survived a 350-foot plunge down an embankment when his car left the Blue Ridge Parkway. The car did not turn over. The doctor crawled back to the highway and flagged help.

Bass Not Interested Now In Pro Offers

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP)—Dick Bass, the national titleholder in three departments of 1958 collegiate football statistics, says he is not interested right now in pro football offers.

The brilliant College of the Pacific halfback from Vallejo, Calif., reported he talked with officials of the San Francisco 49ers and Los Angeles Rams but wanted to make it clear that he would be back with COP next season.

Bass, who has one more year of eligibility, captured the season record for rushing (1,361 yards in 205 carries), total offense (1,440) yards in 217 plays and points scored (116).

Army Guns For First Unbeaten Season In 9 Years Today

Air Academy Pitching For Cotton Bowl

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

While the two service veterans, Army and Navy, clashed in Philadelphia, the rookie Air Force Academy made its final pitch for a Cotton Bowl berth today as major college football called it quits for 1958.

Army was looking for its first unbeaten season in nine years as the Cadets put their 8-0-1 record against Navy (6-2).

But the Air Force, also 8-0-1, needed only a victory at Colorado (6-2) to nail a New Year's Day date against Texas Christian at Dallas. The word is that Air Force, tied by Iowa, can cap its first season as a major team with a bowl trip, win, lose or draw.

Florida and Clemson also could make a bowl today. The Gator Bowl Friday named Florida (9-3-1) for one of its two empty berths—if the Gators beat Miami (1-7). Clemson (7-2) reportedly can have the Sugar Bowl spot opposite unbeaten, untied Louisiana State by beating Furman (2-6).

Mississippi (7-2), South Carolina (7-3), Alabama (5-3-1), Georgia Tech (5-3-1) and Vanderbilt (5-1-3) are in the running for the other Gator Bowl bid. Mississippi played Mississippi State, Alabama met Auburn, Tech played Georgia and Vanderbilt tussled with Tennessee in traditional closers. South Carolina finished by beating Wake Forest Thanksgiving Day.

The other major bowls were filled last week. It's Iowa and California in the Rose Bowl, Oklahoma and Syracuse in the Orange Bowl. All but Oklahoma have finished their regular schedules. The Sooners (8-1) played Oklahoma State.

Louisiana State, No. 1 in The Associated Press poll ahead of unbeaten but bowl-banned Auburn, also has completed its season. Texas Christian closed shop against Southern Methodist, a Sugar Bowl darkhorse.

Other major games were Notre Dame-Southern California, Rice-Baylor and Houston-Texas Tech.

Buffalo Friday night turned down a trip to the Tangerine Bowl in Orlando, Fla., because of racial discrimination which would sideline two players. Team members previously had accepted the invitation, but the university had final say.

Student Admits Slaying Father, Mother, Sister

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — A telephone call summoned sheriff's deputies to a suburban home shortly after midnight Friday night where they found a family shot to death.

Found were the bodies of William L. Andrews, 50; his wife, Opal, 41, and a daughter, Jennie Marie, 20. All had been shot with a .22 caliber rifle.

Undersheriff Al Sachen said a son, Lowell Lee Andrews, 18, a University of Kansas student, was being held after orally admitting the shootings.

He told officers he did not know why he did it, Sachen said. It was young Andrews who telephoned them to the scene, and was waiting when they got there.

Young Andrews told officers he had tossed the weapons in the Kaw River near Lawrence, Sachen said.

The coroner's office fixed the time of death around 7 p.m. Friday.

The elder Andrews was a Trans World Airlines mechanic on strike along with other members of the Machinists Union as a result of contract differences.

No charges were filed immediately.

French Vote Sunday For National Assembly

PARIS (AP)—Frenchmen vote Sunday for the National Assembly which will set the new Fifth Republic on its course. Results of last Sunday's first round voting indicated the new assembly will lean strongly to the right.

In the runoff, 426 deputies for European France will be chosen to sit beside the 39 who won majorities in the preliminary round.

Many leading liberal and moderate politicians were knocked out last Sunday, leaving the prospect of an assembly dominated by the right wing. Premier De Gaulle apparently had hoped for an assembly of moderates leaning to the left.

One of the largest blocs of rightists deputies will come from Algeria, where 66 seats are being filled in one-round elections which began Friday and end Sunday. Mobile polls are moving through the Algerian countryside. The cities will vote Sunday.

Aussie Halts Winning Way Of U.S. Star

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

SYDNEY (AP)—Wimbledon and U.S. champion Ashley Cooper of Australia halted the sensational winning streak of 18-year-old Earl Buchholz, of St. Louis, today by winning the New South Wales tennis championship 6-0, 6-1, 7-9, 6-2.

Buchholz was able to win only 10 points in the first set and 12 in the second before he mustered a brief but shortlived rally which won him the third.

The American camp was not heartened over the setback.

"We are very proud of the way Buchholz has played all week," said Perry Jones, U.S. Davis Cup captain. "He was up against the world's best amateur in Cooper and he was playing his first important final."

Earlier, pretty 19-year-old Renee Schuurman of South Africa won the women's title by defeating Jan Lehane, Australia junior, 6-2, 4-6, 6-4.

The junior singles crown went to Ken Fletcher who beat Martin Mulligan 9-7, 5-7, 6-4. Buchholz withdrew from the junior competition Thursday after he had beaten Emerson in the men's semi-finals.

In his student days Eisenhower was a promising halfback until he injured his knee in 1912, his second year at West Point. That injury — which still bothers him occasionally — ended his gridiron career.

The President planned to take it generally easy today, with one major business conference just behind him and another coming up Sunday.

He met all morning Friday with top Pentagon and Budget Bureau officials on planning defense spending for the fiscal year starting July 1.

After that session Secretary of Defense McElroy left open the possibility military expenditures will run a billion dollars more in that year than the estimated $40,800,000,000 this year.

Sunday the President will confer here with Secretary of State Dulles. They will discuss the Berlin picture and other international problems.

Three Brothers, 10, 11 And 12 Admit Burglaries

CLEVELAND (AP) — Three West Side brothers aged 10, 11 and 12 were arrested at their home Friday night. Police said they admitted taking $1,300 from St. Patrick's Catholic School in four burglaries within the last two months.

Mrs. Anton Chesek, 49, wife of the custodian at the school, surprised the youngsters Friday afternoon and grabbed one of the boys. His shouts brought his brothers and they kicked and punched the woman until she released her hold, she told police.

The woman knew the boys and gave their names to officers.

Patrolman Vincent Gallagher, who made the arrests, and Lt. Peter Allen said the boys admitted looting and ransacking about 10 homes in the area and taking $950 from a filing cabinet in St. Patrick's School Oct. 10, another $351 from the same cabinet Nov. 12 and $61 from the custodian's apartment Oct. 19. The larger sums represented collections by nuns from pupils who were selling Christmas cards.

Officers said the boys were part of a family of 14 children and that both of their parents held fulltime jobs.

Wyoming U. Coach To Talk At School

SMITHVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Everette Shelton, head coach at the University of Wyoming, will be the featured speaker Saturday, Dec. 6, at the 14th annual Northern Ohio Basketball Coaching School here.

Wilbur Burkey, director of the school, said some 300 coaches would attand.

L. B. Hennon, coach of Wampum High School, which won the 1958 Pennsylvania championship, and Jack Swinderman of Dover High, will round out the clinic staff. Swinderman will bring his Dover squad to demonstrate his basketball theories.

Survived Plunge

ROANOKE, Va. (AP) — Dr. Ralph W. Walton, 71, a one-armed physician from Montclair, N. J., survived a 350-foot plunge down an embankment when his car left the Blue Ridge Parkway. The car did not turn over. The doctor crawled back to the highway and flagged help.

Bass Not Interested Now In Pro Offers

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP)—Dick Bass, the national titleholder in three departments of 1958 collegiate football statistics, says he is not interested right now in pro football offers.

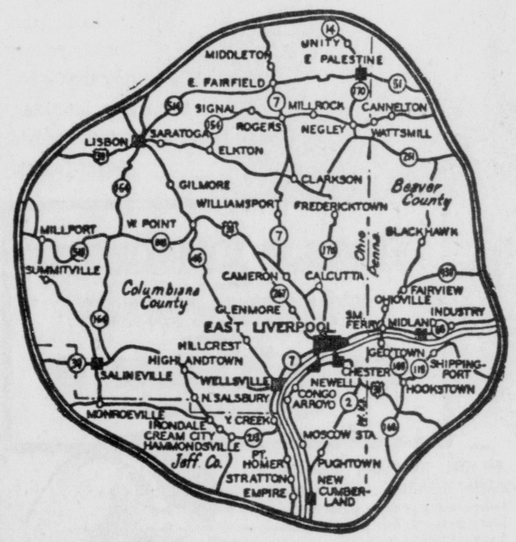

The brilliant College of the Pacific halfback from Vallejo, Calif., reported he talked with officials of the San Francisco 49ers and Los Angeles Rams but wanted to make it clear that he would be back with COP next season.

Bass, who has one more year of eligibility, captured the season record for rushing (1,361 yards in 205 carries), total offense (1,440) yards in 217 plays and points scored (116).

Farm Product Prices Slump

Remain Nearly 4% Above Those In '57

WASHINGTON (AP)—Farm product prices dipped four-tenths of one per cent this month to continue a downturn started in September when harvest of this year's record farm output began.

These prices still held nearly 4 per cent above a year earlier, but if the present trend continues they may fall below levels of a year ago before the winter is over. Agriculture Department economists say they expect this to happen.

The November declines were confined largely to oranges, hogs, cotton, corn and tobacco. Slight increases were reported by the Agriculture Department for some vegetables, potatoes, apples and milk.

But prices farmers received for meat animals in mid-November remained 18 per cent above year-ago levels. Beef cattle were up more than hogs. The latter brought 94 per cent of parity and hogs 80 per cent in mid-November, compared with 79 and 75 per cent, respectively, a year ago.

The buying power of farm products lost further ground as prices paid by farmers went up another third of one per cent to set a new record. Increases were reported in prices of food, clothing, automobiles, building materials, and replacement cattle.

The relationship between prices of hogs and corn became more favorable to the hog raiser in November than in October this year and November last year.

Hog prices eased off a little but corn dropped more. On the basis of mid - November prices, 100 pounds of live hog would buy 19 bushels of corn. In October, that quantity would buy 17.8 bushels and a year earlier 16.9 bushels.

Generally speaking, the more favorable this relationship for the hog raiser, the more hogs are produced.

Wants To Drive Reds From Hungary

Hungarian Refugee In U.S. Studies And Dreams Death

CINCINNATI (AP) — A lonely young man works over a drafting board here by day, studies at night, and dreams a dream of death.

He killed 15 men two years ago. He would like to do it again, and again and again.

He has only two aims: To become an engineer and to return to his native Budapest to help drive communism and the Soviets out of Hungary.

His family still lives in Hungary, so he can't be named.

He says: "I can't go back to Budapest as long as the communists are in control. I had to flee from there or be killed.

"We will free Budapest, which is the most beautiful city in the world, and then free the world.

"After that, I'll live with my family. I miss them now. Sometimes I cry for them when I am alone."

He was a 19-year-old youth when he led a rebel squad trying to help halt Russian troops and equipment that crushed the rebellion.

He now earns $60 a week at his drafting job and attends Xavier University at night.

The young man said things were hard in Hungary before the uprising, Oct. 23, 1956. Prices moved higher and wages lower.

He said he had been warned about going to church, "so each Sunday, I'd have to hop on my bicycle and ride to a church in another neighborhood where I wasn't known."

When the rebellion started, he joined a group of demonstrators and, "from that day, on, I slept during the day and attacked at night."

The young student said he led a pack of 25 people, including a youth of 18 and an oldster of 40.

He said his own kill included five policemen, 10 Russian soldiers and a destroyed tank.

The young Hungarian was bicycling home one day when a friend said police were there, waiting for him. He fled the country, crossing the border with help from a Hungarian soldier.

Red Papers Slap Tito For 'Better Relations'

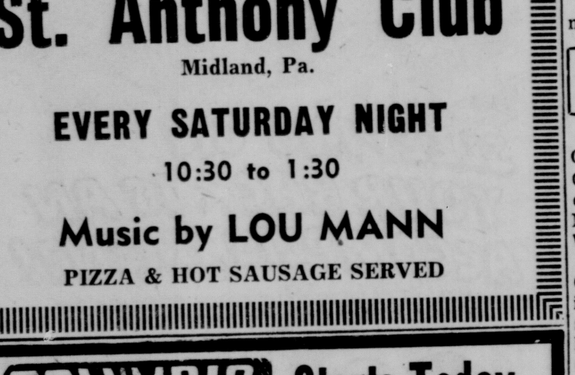

MOSCOW (AP) — Two Soviet newspapers took a backhand slap at President Tito today in making a direct plea to the Yugoslav people for better relations between the two countries.

Pravda and Izvestia made no mention of Tito in messages of greeting to the Yugoslav people on the 13th anniversary of the founding of the Yugoslav Communist Republic.

Instead both newspapers denounced revisionists — those accused by Moscow of attempting to split the communist bloc by refusing to toe the Kremlin line. Tito is regarded by communists outside Yugoslavia as a leading apostle of revisionism.

Council To Air Bus Franchise

Transfer Of Holtz Line Due For Action

Council is scheduled to consider legislation Monday night switching the franchise for the Pleasant Heights bus line from the Holtz Transportation Co. to the Inter-City Transit Co., following through on a change of ownership announced early this week.

Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper said he expects to present a new ordinance combining in one piece of legislation the franchise for the Heights line and the Grandview line, which Inter - City has served since December 1955. The new ordinance will incorporate various amendments that have been made in the Grandview franchise since it first was granted, he said.

A separate piece of legislation will rescind the Holtz concern's Heights franchise. The line was sold by Andrew H. Holtz to John W. Young, operator of Inter-City. As part of the new operation, Young will provide service along Route 267 between LaCroft and Glenmoor, but that stretch will not be named in the ordinance because it is outside the city.

Council also is scheduled to consider legislation to provide funds for payment of an engineering fee for preparation of plans and specifications for a four-tenth mile stretch added to the proposed California Hollow - West End Freeway, scheduled for construction next year.

As originally planned, there would have been a short gap between the end of the city freeway and the beginning of an East Liverpool - Ashtabula Freeway planned by the State Highway Department. Monday night's legislation will provide for engineering on the short added stretch, following through on approval granted by the state last summer.

St. Andrew's Day Program To Be Sunday

Members of the First Presbyterian Church will observe St. Andrew's Day at the 11 a. m. worship tomorrow, which will also mark the first Sunday in Advent.

The Advent wreath will be on the Communion table as a symbol of the season and on each Sunday during the morning services a candle will be lit until Christmas.

The Rev. M. Rudolph Miller will preach on "The Friend."

Music will include the preparation, three scenes from "The Boyhood of Christ," "Mary's Song," "Playmate" and "The Little Prayers" (Rowley); gradual, "One Hundredth Psalm" (Mueller), by the Bethlehem Choir under the direction of Mrs. Donald C. Allen with Miss Charleen Russell at the piano; offertory anthem, "Dies Irae" (Treharne), by the Chancel Choir, and the postlude, "Magnificat" (Tozer).

The Senior High Group will meet at 5:30 in the Lower Chapel with Bob McBane as program chairman and Luanne Miller in charge of the worship service. Planning will be continued for a special meeting Dec. 7 to which all Presbyterian Youth groups in the district will be invited.

The Junior High Group will not meet Sunday.

Ball, Bat, Glove Collateral

Boy Gets $5 Loan To Buy Model, Gifts For Parents

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"May I help you?" asked the banker.

"I want to borrow $5," the boy replied.

"What are you going to do with it?"

"Buy a model aircraft carrier kit."

"How much does it cost?"

"Three dollars."

"Then why do you need five?"

"I want to buy some Christmas presents for my mother and father."

Name? Billy Juster. Age? Eight. Married? No. Occupation?

"I go to school—and help my father."

"Do you get paid?"

Yes—15 cents a week."

"Have you anything to put up as collateral?"

Billy handed over a baseball and glove.

"This ball is just about worn out," said Musante. He and Billy agreed it and the glove weren't worth more than $3.

"I've got a bat in the car," Billy said. He ran outside and returned with the bat.

"I think we can lend you the $5," said Musante.

Billy signed a note agreeing to repay the loan at 40 cents a month. Also 8 per cent interest, the bank's rate for small loans—an additional 40 cents.

"If you don't pay, we may have to sell this collateral and maybe repossess your aircraft carrier,' Musante warned.

Billy's father, Harmon, general manger of a knitting mill, had stood outside in the lobby of the Bank of America branch throughout the transaction Friday. He told Musante the deal's background:

Billy had asked his dad for the $5 loan. Juster told him: "You know, son, when I need money I go to the bank and borrow it."

"Let's go to the bank," said Billy.

Musante told a reporter: "Ordinarily the bank doesn't make loans to persons under 21. This is a case of instructing the younger generation in getting money the way a dad would have to."

Dragnet Spread In Bid To Nail Cop-Killer

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — A dragnet was spread today in an effort to capture 32-year-old cop-killer Spence Edwards who fled a Georgia prison camp Tuesday.

The FBI listed Edwards as "extremely dangerous" and said he is armed with a shotgun and a .38 police revolver which he took from a Tennessee state trooper.

The search had been centered in the Birmingham area since Wednesday night, when he freed three teen-agers whom he forced to drive him from Tennessee.

The quarterly meeting of the Church School staff will be held at 7:15 p. m. Thursday.

Ball, Bat, Glove Collateral

Boy Gets $5 Loan To Buy Model, Gifts For Parents

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"May I help you?" asked the banker.

"I want to borrow $5," the boy replied.

"What are you going to do with it?"

"Buy a model aircraft carrier kit."

"How much does it cost?"

"Three dollars."

"Then why do you need five?"

"I want to buy some Christmas presents for my mother and father."

Name? Billy Juster. Age? Eight. Married? No. Occupation?

"I go to school—and help my father."

"Do you get paid?"

Yes—15 cents a week."

"Have you anything to put up as collateral?"

Billy handed over a baseball and glove.

"This ball is just about worn out," said Musante. He and Billy agreed it and the glove weren't worth more than $3.

"I've got a bat in the car," Billy said. He ran outside and returned with the bat.

"I think we can lend you the $5," said Musante.

Billy signed a note agreeing to repay the loan at 40 cents a month. Also 8 per cent interest, the bank's rate for small loans—an additional 40 cents.

"If you don't pay, we may have to sell this collateral and maybe repossess your aircraft carrier,' Musante warned.

They shook hands. Musante gave Billy five silver dollars.

Billy's father, Harmon, general manger of a knitting mill, had stood outside in the lobby of the Bank of America branch throughout the transaction Friday. He told Musante the deal's background:

Billy had asked his dad for the $5 loan. Juster told him: "You know, son, when I need money I go to the bank and borrow it."

"Let's go to the bank," said Billy.

Musante told a reporter: "Ordinarily the bank doesn't make loans to persons under 21. This is a case of instructing the younger generation in getting money the way a dad would have to."

Former Minister In Russia To Talk

The Rev. Peter Varanoff of Cleveland, a former Christian minister in Russia, will be guest speaker at the 7:30 p. m. service Wednesday at the LaCroft Church of the Nazarene.

He will discuss the threat of Communism.

The Rev. Ray E. Banks, pastor, will preach on "The Liberty of Holiness" at the 10:45 a. m. service Sunday.

Mrs. Hazel Silverthorn, pianist, and Jeffry Capehart, organist, will play.

Sunday School is at 9:45.

The Young People's and Junior Societies will meet at 6:45 p. m.

Rev. Banks will preach on "How Great Our Neglect" at the 7:30 p. m. service.

Catholic Church Plans Mission At Wellsville

A two-week mission at the Wellsville Immaculate Conception Catholic Church, under the direction of Fr. Joseph Lima of the Society of Precious Blood, will begin Sunday at 7:30 p. m.

The first week will be for women and the second for men. Services will be conducted nightly at 7:30.

Confession will follow each evening service. Fr. William J. Lawler is pastor.

The annual Thanksgiving clothing drive by the church for needy people overseas will conclude Sunday.

Dragnet Spread In Bid To Nail Cop-Killer

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — A dragnet was spread today in an effort to capture 32-year-old cop-killer Spence Edwards who fled a Georgia prison camp Tuesday.

The FBI listed Edwards as "extremely dangerous" and said he is armed with a shotgun and a .38 police revolver which he took from a Tennessee state trooper.

The search had been centered in the Birmingham area since Wednesday night, when he freed three teen-agers whom he forced to drive him from Tennessee.

New York City has about 542,000 homes in the 1-family, 2-family categories.

Prince Of Peace Event Planned In 2 Sections

The Columbiana County Prince of Peace Contest Dec. 7 will be held in two sections. Silver medals will be awarded two contestants.

They will be held at 3 p. m. at the Evangelical United Brethren Church at East Palestine and the Christian Church at Columbiana.

Participants at East Palestine will be Mary Lou Beaumont of Wellsville, William Lindsay of East Palestine, Mary Jo Arn of Columbiana and Sharon Richardson of New Waterford.

Those to compete at Columbiana are Gail Lyon of Homeworth and Caroline Day, Jack Brittain and Lana Keller of Columbiana.

Man Recaptured After Chiseling Out Of Jail

CAMBRIDGE, Ohio (AP) — A man held on a rape charge used a piece of metal broken from his cell bed to chisel his way out of the 80-year-old Guernsey County Jail last night. He was recaptured two hours later.

Sheriff Forest Warden said Samuel Charles Swingle, 24, of Zanesville, escaped through a small hole in the jail's east wall about 7 p. m. and was recaptured at 9 p. m. at the north edge of the city by Ohio Highway Patrol Lt. G. B. McConnell. Swingle was trying to hitchhike a ride when caught.

Elyria Firm Has Low Bid On Farm Project

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Reichert Construction Co. of Elyria has submitted the apparent low bid of $90,000 for general work on a dormitory addition at Grafton State Farm in Lorain County. The state estimate is $100,564.

Pastor Accepts Call To Pulpit In Spokane, Wash.

The Rev. Quentin C. Caswell has announced his resignation as pastor of the Gardendale Church of the Nazarene, effective Dec. 21.

He has accepted a call to the Crestline church at Spokane Wash.

Rev. Caswell has served here since June 1956. He came here from Akron. He is a graduate of the Eastern Nazarene College at Quincy, Mass.

He will preach at the 10:50 a. m. worship Sunday.

Sunday School will be at 9:45.

Youth service will be at 6:45 p. m. with evening worship at 7:30.

75 At Church Rites

About 75 attended union Thanksgiving services Wednesday evening in Midland of the Presbyterians and Methodists at the Presbyterian Church. An offering of $25 was collected for the Passavant Home at Rochester. The Rev. George H. Bohlender, minister of the Presbyterian Church, conducted the services.

Stow Pastor Accepts Call To Lisbon Church

LISBON — The Rev. William M. Spankler, 28, of Stow Community Church will become pastor of the First Christian Church here, according to Leland L. Adams, chairman of the pulpit committee.

He will succeed the Rev. Cyril W. Houston, pastor for 11 years, who will terminate his service late in December.

Rev. Spankler is a native of Akron and is a graduate of the College of the Bible at Lexington, Ky. He has been at Stow since his graduation four years ago.

The new pastor and his wife, an Akron school teacher, will move to Lisbon in February. They have no children.

Leftovers From Thanksgiving

This is Thanksgiving weekend. Thanksgiving Day itself has passed and, in millions of homes across the nation, we are eating the familiar leftover turkey dishes prepared from the turkeys most of us eat to mark the occasion. Our newspapers and magazines are full of ideas for turkey soup, turkey hash, hot turkey pie and even toys children can make with turkey bones.

Dr. Peale

Have you ever tasted wild turkey? It's good to eat, but you won't find much meat on the bones, and if you're hungry there won't be anything left over for turkey hash. Well, no one knows whether or not the Pilgrims, when they celebrated that first Thanksgiving Day more than 300 years ago, ate turkey. But, if they did, it was wild turkey — and we do know that they were hungry enough so there certainly was no leftover problem.

THANKSGIVING left some thoughts in my mind which I would like to share with you. Let's call them "Thanksgiving leftover thoughts" if you please.

I often wish I could know more about the Pilgrims and what they were really like. They must have been a great breed of people. Last year, I read an article by the captain of the second Mayflower, which attempted to duplicate the journey from England to New England made by the original ship.

It took a course down the Azores in the summer to avoid the rigors of the North Atlantic. The skipper admitted frankly that he didn't want to face the dangers of the route the first Mayflower took across the ocean — and their journey was made in September, when the hurricanes and storms begin; in October, when the rain and winds come up, and in the cold of November.

They were indeed real people, real men and women, these Pilgrims — and those of us who can claim descent from them have reason to be proud of them, as do all of us who call ourselves Americans.

THERE WERE only 121 of them to start with. By the next spring, they had buried husbands, wives and children in this inhospitable wilderness and only 53 remained, half of them children. And, on these 53 people was placed the burden of building what became a great colony, a great commonwealth and a great country.

Apparently they had strong tough minds and could take criticism (and maybe they needed some straight talk, too, as we all do at times). In 1622 there was published in London a sermon preached to them in those early days. These are the words the Pilgrims heard in their church one Sunday. It was strong preaching, to say the least.

"This country is yet raw, the land untilled, the cities not builded, the cattle not settled. Paul said that men in the last days shall be lovers of themselves, but here it is yet but the first days and as it were the dawning of this new world, it is now therefore no time for men to look to get riches, to have clothes, to have dainty fare, but to look to present necessities. It is now no time to pamper the flesh, live at ease, snatch fats, but rather to open the doors, the checks and vessels and say, 'Brother, neighbor and friend, what would ye?'"

THEY HAD hard tasks and their survival wasn't easy, but yet they had true gratitude to God. And so they felt it proper to set aside a day of thanksgiving. Think how much more each of us has to be thankful for in this modern day. Not only riches, clothes and dainty fare far beyond the wildest dreams of the Pilgrims, but a great country, firm on the foundation they built.

We need to remind ourselves not only on Thanksgiving but the day after and every day thereafter that no people ever have been blessed as has the American nation.

Every day of the year we ought to bow our heads and give thanks for the privilege of living in a land of opportunity and freedom. This country may have its faults, and there are always those who spend their time enumerating them. There are indeed things that need correcting. But as for me I will never get over appreciating that I can live out my life in the good old United States. Such a thanksgiving leftover I hope will stay with us always.

Religion At Work

Legal Or Ethical: A Fine Difference

We had a discussion at our house recently on the fine difference that sometimes exist between what is legal and what is ethical. The two are not the same always, but it's easy to think they are!

Merely because something is permitted by law does not mean necessarily that it measures up to a high standard of ethics. The law permits us to do many things that are contrary to a strict moral code.

Laws are rules of action established through recognized authorities for the purpose of prescribing specific duties or obligations and insuring justice.

OUR ACTIONS may be legal and still not be ethical. We may conform to the law in every respect while overlooking entirely the points of morality involved. We may do our legal duty and at the same time neglect the human aspects of right and wrong.

The example that brought on our discussion had to do with the manner in which a large gift to a public institution was handled. The transaction was legal in every sense of the word, but both the donor and the recipient of the gift violated a principle of right action. Legally they were right; morally they were wrong.

Secretary of State Dulles made a point in this connection not long ago in an address before the Military Chaplains Assn. He said our nation was founded on the principle that man has a moral duty to perform, and implied that this duty goes beyond the requirements of a legalistic code of conduct.

Mr. Dulles quoted George Washington as having said that the indispensable supports of a representative government are morality and religion. In other words, legal action or adherence alone are not enough to create and maintain a nation of free men.

THE THANKSGIVING season is a good time to review the question of law vs. ethics in our national life.

Not until the Pilgrims came to these shores in 1620 did the colonization of America take a firm hold and go on to the expansion and development that have given us our nation today.

What did the Pilgrims have that other colonists did not have? Why did they succeed while others before and after them failed?

The Pilgrims lived by a standard of character which was founded on the human or instinctive concept of what is right. They did not need a set of man-made rules to tell them what to do and not do. They followed their inborn desire for justice and consequently lived above and beyond the minimum requirements of a legal code.

This is not to say that we do not need laws in a society as complicated as the one in which we live. But we should look upon the laws of the land as rules of competition, not as standards of conduct.

Bride, 14, Joins Husband Of 3 Months In London

LONDON (AP)—Little Barbara Scruggs, 14-year-old bride of a U.S. Navy film projectionist, arrived to join her husband today and said she might try school in England.

Barbara married Norman E. Scruggs, 21, Kingston, Ga., three months ago. During his two-year duty tour she will be the youngest bride in Britain, where the minimum age for marriage is 16.

Mrs. Scruggs said she left school in White Plains, Va., before her marriage.

"I miss it," she said. "I may go to school here but it depends on a lot of things."

Barbara, a slight figure just 4 feet 3, wore her hair in a pony tail topped by a black band with an eye veil.

Officer Killed In Gun Battle With 2 Robbers

RAHWAY, N. J. (AP)—A 29-year-old policeman surprised two men breaking into an auto agency Friday night and was killed in the gun battle that followed. The men escaped.

Patrolman Charles Bernoskie, a father of five, was shot four times, but he emptied his six-shot revolver. He staggered to the nearest house, stumbled into the kitchen and collapsed. He died 15 minutes later.

Discussion Slated On New Loans To Small Businesses

The Upper Ohio Valley Development Council has scheduled a conference in Steubenville Dec. 11 to provide information on new federal laws designed to encourage lending to finance modernization and expansion of small business and industrial concerns.

The luncheon meeting will start at the Ft. Steuben Hotel. Dec. 9 is the deadline for reservations.

Walter L. Myers Jr., executive manager of UOVDC, said the discussion will center on the Small Business Investment Act passed at the last session of Congress. Its purpose is to extend to small businesses some of the access to equity capital and long - term financing that already are available to larger concerns.

The new law permits establishment of small business investment firms with a single function: To provide small concerns with long-term funds either through loans of up to 20 years or through purchase of debentures that are convertible into common stock at the creditor's option and at a "sound" market value.

Dow Chemical Co. Is Buying Benzene From Russians

The company, announcing the agreement Friday, said it made the deal partly because of its "economic advantages." The reference apparently was to the reported purchase price of 24 or 25 cents a gallon. The current price of domestic benzene is 31 cents a gallon.

The contract, under which Dow will pay about 13½ million dollars to the Soviet government, appeared to be a major success by Russia in its attempt to penetrate the American market with raw materials at reduced prices.

The company also said another reason favoring the agreement was that the contract assured a dependable supply of benzene in the near future. In the past, Dow said, domestic supplies have been erratic and sometimes seriously inadequate.

Industry sources agreed that this was sometimes true, but said that at present there is an oversupply of domestic benzene.

Truck Firm And UAW Recess Negotiations

NEW YORK (AP)—Negotiators for Mack Truck Co. and the United Auto Workers recessed negotiations until later today in efforts to avert a strike.

All plants were operating normally on the midnight to 8 a.m. shift today.

A strike would affect about 8,500 workers at plants in Plainfield and Bridgewater Twp., N. J., Cortland, N.Y., Allentown, Pa., and Sidney, Ohio.

Man Looted 10 Cars, All Sheriff's Officers

NORWALK, Calif. (AP) — Authorities said Feliciano Euribe broke into 10 cars in a parking lot and took everything he found of value.

Then Dep. Sheriff Thomas Vetter arrested him and Euribe found out exactly where he was. Vetter had just come off duty Friday and the parking lot was behind the sheriff's Norwalk substation.

Has 17th Child

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Another little Berry has been added to a crop that is Trumbull County's largest. Mrs. Clifford Berry gave birth to a son Friday in St. Joseph Hospital. That made a family of eight boys and nine girls for the Berrys, married 21 years ago this month. The father is a Republic Steel Corp. foreman.

Construction To Start Soon On Seminary

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)—Construction will start soon on a 2½ million dollar Methodist theological seminary near here.

High ranking church officials, undeterred by a swirling snow storm, officiated at ground-breaking ceremonies Friday. But the eight-inch snow fall will delay the construction start a few days.

The new church school will be located on a 70-acre site three miles south of here on U. S. 23. Plans call for a first unit of three buildings — a dormitory for 150 students, an administration-classroom building and a library-auditorium.

At a luncheon preceding the ground-breaking, Ray Dix, Wooster newspaper publisher, was elected president of the Methodist Theological School Assn. Dr. Lynn C. Radcliffe, pastor of Hyde Park Community Methodist Church, Cincinnati, was elected vice president; Kline Hamilton of Columbus, secretary, and Walter Morris of Warren, treasurer.

The association was formed to promote and support the school.

Extradition's Granted Escaped Slayer To Ohio

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — Gov. J. Hugo Aronson has granted extradition of Delbert Wilt, an escaped murderer, to Ohio.

Wilt, 44, fled from London, Ohio, prison farm, in October, 1951.

He has been held in Bozeman jail since he was arrested by the FBI at Livingston Oct. 18. Authorities said Wilt had been working in the Livingston area for several months under the name of Daniel Coe.

Wilt was convicted of the May, 1935 hatchet slaying of elderly, half - blind Edward B. Thomas at the Thomas farm home in Ohio's Stark County. Mrs. Thomas also was slain, but Wilt never was tried on that charge.

He was convicted of first degree murder with a recommendation of mercy. He was admitted to Ohio Penitentiary in October, 1935 and later was transferred to the prison farm. Extradition was granted Friday.

Member Of IBOP Local Urges City Fund Parley

If the city government needs additional money to meet its obligations, the problem should be talked over in a general meeting of labor, business and church groups, along with other organizations and individuals, the correspondent of an IBOP local suggested today in the lead article in the Potters Herald, official union newspaper.

Signed by the correspondent of Warehouseman's Local 94, the article commented: "If the city needs money to operate in a solvent manner, why not call a general meeting of all citizens, business groups, labor unions, church groups, etc., and discuss the ways and means of meeting the issue?"

Such a meeting has been proposed unofficially in recent weeks since repeal of the city income tax at the Nov. 4 election. The rejection cost the city about $400,000 in annual revenue and threatens the lay - off of about 25 city employes, some of them part-time, at the beginning of 1959.

Soviet Expert Dies

MOSCOW (AP) — The death of Prof. Semyon Isaakovich Tetelbaum, 48, radio and electronics expert, was reported Friday in the newspaper Ukraine Pravda.

Leftovers From Thanksgiving

This is Thanksgiving weekend. Thanksgiving Day itself has passed and, in millions of homes across the nation, we are eating the familiar leftover turkey dishes prepared from the turkeys most of us eat to mark the occasion. Our newspapers and magazines are full of ideas for turkey soup, turkey hash, hot turkey pie and and even toys children can make with turkey bones.

Dr. Peale

Have you ever tasted wild turkey? It's good to eat, but you won't find much meat on the bones, and if you're hungry there won't be anything left over for turkey hash. Well, no one knows whether or not the Pilgrims, when they celebrated that first Thanksgiving Day more than 300 years ago, ate turkey. But, if they did, it was wild turkey — and we do know that they were hungry enough so there certainly was no leftover problem.

THANKSGIVING left some thoughts in my mind which I would like to share with you. Let's call them "Thanksgiving leftover thoughts" if you please.

I often wish I could know more about the Pilgrims and what they were really like. They must have been a great breed of people. Last year, I read an article by the captain of the second Mayflower, which attempted to duplicate the journey from England to New England made by the original ship.

It took a course down the Azores in the summer to avoid the rigors of the North Atlantic. The skipper admitted frankly that he didn't want to face the dangers of the route the first Mayflower took across the ocean — and their journey was made in September, when the hurricanes and storms begin; in October, when the rain and winds come up, and in the cold of November.

They were indeed real people, real men and women, these Pilgrims — and those of us who can claim descent from them have reason to be proud of them, as do all of us who call ourselves Americans.

THERE WERE only 121 of them to start with. By the next spring, they had buried husbands, wives and children in this inhospitable wilderness and only 53 remained, half of them children. And, on these 53 people was placed the burden of building what became a great colony, a great commonwealth and a great country.

Apparently they had strong tough minds and could take criticism (and maybe they needed some straight talk, too, as we all do at times). In 1622 there was published in London a sermon preached to them in those early days. These are the words the Pilgrims heard in their church one Sunday. It was strong preaching, to say the least.

"This country is yet raw, the land untilled, the cities not builded, the cattle not settled. Paul said that men in the last days shall be lovers of themselves, but here it is yet but the first days and as it were the dawning of this new world, it is now therefore no time for men to look to get riches, to have clothes, to have dainty fare, but to look to present necessities. It is now no time to pamper the flesh, live at ease, snatch fats, but rather to open the doors, the checks and vessels and say, 'Brother, neighbor and friend, what would ye?' "

THEY HAD hard tasks and their survival wasn't easy, but yet they had true gratitude to God. And so they felt it proper to set aside a day of thanksgiving. Think how much more each of us has to be thankful for in this modern day. Not only riches, clothes and dainty fare far beyond the wildest dreams of the Pilgrims, but a great country, firm on the foundation they built.

We need to remind ourselves not only on Thanksgiving but the day after and every day thereafter that no people ever have been blessed as has the American nation.

Every day of the year we ought to bow our heads and give thanks for the privilege of living in a land of opportunity and freedom. This country may have its faults, and there are always those who spend their time enumerating them. There are indeed things that need correcting. But as for me I will never get over appreciating that I can live out my life in the good old United States. Such a thanksgiving leftover I hope will stay with us always.

Religion At Work

By Eugene Carr

Legal Or Ethical: A Fine Difference

We had a discussion at our house recently on the fine difference that sometimes exist between what is legal and what is ethical. The two are not the same always, but it's easy to think they are!

Merely because something is permitted by law does not mean necessarily that it measures up to a high standard of ethics. The law permits us to do many things that are contrary to a strict moral code.

Laws are rules of action established through recognized authorities for the purpose of prescribing specific duties or obligations and insuring justice.

OUR ACTIONS may be legal and still not be ethical. We may conform to the law in every respect while overlooking entirely the points of morality involved. We may do our legal duty and at the same time neglect the human aspects of right and wrong.

The example that brought on our discussion had to do with the manner in which a large gift to a public institution was handled. The transaction was legal in every sense of the word, but both the donor and the recipient of the gift violated a principle of right action. Legally they were right; morally they were wrong.

Secretary of State Dulles made a point in this connection not long ago in an address before the Military Chaplains Assn. He said our nation was founded on the principle that man has a moral duty to perform, and implied that this duty goes beyond the requirements of a legalistic code of conduct.

Mr. Dulles quoted George Washington as having said that the indispensable supports of a representative government are morality and religion. In other words, legal action or adherence alone are not enough to create and maintain a nation of free men.

The main force behind such a nation must be the desire of its citizens to do what is right regardless of what the law permits.

THE THANKSGIVING season is a good time to review the question of law vs. ethics in our national life.

Not until the Pilgrims came to these shores in 1620 did the colonization of America take a firm hold and go on to the expansion and development that have given us our nation today.

What did the Pilgrims have that other colonists did not have? Why did they succeed while others before and after them failed?

The Pilgrims lived by a standard of character which was founded on the human or instinctive concept of what is right. They did not need a set of man-made rules to tell them what to do and not do. They followed their inborn desire for justice and consequently lived above and beyond the minimum requirements of a legal code.

This is not to say that we do not need laws in a society as complicated as the one in which we live. But we should look upon the laws of the land as rules of competition, not as standards of conduct.

Discussion Slated On New Loans To Small Businesses

The Upper Ohio Valley Development Council has scheduled a conference in Steubenville Dec. 11 to provide information on new federal laws designed to encourage lending to finance modernization and expansion of small business and industrial concerns.

The luncheon meeting will start at the Ft. Steuben Hotel. Dec. 9 is the deadline for reservations.

Walter L. Myers Jr., executive manager of UOVDC, said the discussion will center on the Small Business Investment Act passed at the last session of Congress. Its purpose is to extend to small businesses some of the access to equity capital and long - term financing that already are available to larger concerns.

The new law permits establishment of small business investment firms with a single function: To provide small concerns with long-term funds either through loans of up to 20 years or through purchase of debentures that are convertible into common stock at the creditor's option and at a "sound" market value.

Dow Chemical Co. Is Buying Benzene From Russians

The company, announcing the agreement Friday, said it made the deal partly because of its "economic advantages." The reference apparently was to the reported purchase price of 24 or 25 cents a gallon. The current price of domestic benzene is 31 cents a gallon.

The contract, under which Dow will pay about 13½ million dollars to the Soviet government, appeared to be a major success by Russia in its attempt to penetrate the American market with raw materials at reduced prices.

The company also said another reason favoring the agreement was that the contract assured a dependable supply of benzene in the near future. In the past, Dow said, domestic supplies have been erratic and sometimes seriously inadequate.

Industry sources agreed that this was sometimes true, but said that at present there is an oversupply of domestic benzene.

Truck Firm And UAW Recess Negotiations

NEW YORK (AP)—Negotiators for Mack Truck Co. and the United Auto Workers recessed negotiations until later today in efforts to avert a strike.

All plants were operating normally on the midnight to 8 a.m. shift today.

A strike would affect about 8,500 workers at plants in Plainfield and Bridgewater Twp., N. J., Cortland, N.Y., Allentown, Pa., and Sidney, Ohio.

Man Looted 10 Cars, All Sheriff's Officers

NORWALK, Calif. (AP) — Authorities said Feliciano Euribe broke into 10 cars in a parking lot and took everything he found of value.

Then Dep. Sheriff Thomas Vetter arrested him and Euribe found out exactly where he was. Vetter had just come off duty Friday and the parking lot was behind the sheriff's Norwalk substation.

Has 17th Child

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Another little Berry has been added to a crop that is Trumbull County's largest. Mrs. Clifford Berry gave birth to a son Friday in St. Joseph Hospital. That made a family of eight boys and nine girls for the Berrys, married 21 years ago this month. The father is a Republic Steel Corp. foreman.

Bride, 14, Joins Husband Of 3 Months In London

LONDON (AP)—Little Barbara Scruggs, 14-year-old bride of a U.S. Navy film projectionist, arrived to join her husband today and said she might try school in England.

Barbara married Norman E. Scruggs, 21, Kingston, Ga., three months ago. During his two-year duty tour she will be the youngest bride in Britain, where the minimum age for marriage is 16.

Mrs. Scruggs said she left school in White Plains, Va., before her marriage.

Barbara, a slight figure just 4 feet 3, wore her hair in a pony tail topped by a black band with an eye veil.

"It's just great to be together again," said Norman as they embraced at a friend's apartment.

Norman is an electrician's mate, third class, attached to naval support headquarters in London.

RAHWAY, N. J. (AP)—A 29-year-old policeman surprised two men breaking into an auto agency Friday night and was killed in the gun battle that followed. The men escaped.

Patrolman Charles Bernoskie, a father of five, was shot four times, but he emptied his six-shot revolver. He staggered to the nearest house, stumbled into the kitchen and collapsed. He died 15 minutes later.

Coal Executive Dies

Construction To Start Soon On Seminary

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)—Construction will start soon on a 2½ million dollar Methodist theological seminary near here.

High ranking church officials, undeterred by a swirling snow storm, officiated at ground-breaking ceremonies Friday. But the eight-inch snow fall will delay the construction start a few days.

The new church school will be located on a 70-acre site three miles south of here on U. S. 23. Plans call for a first unit of three buildings — a dormitory for 150 students, an administration-classroom building and a library-auditorium.

Later, the church expects to expand facilities to 10 buildings capable of handling an enrollment of 500 students.

At a luncheon preceding the ground-breaking, Ray Dix, Wooster newspaper publisher, was elected president of the Methodist Theological School Assn. Dr. Lynn C. Radcliffe, pastor of Hyde Park Community Methodist Church, Cincinnati, was elected vice president; Kline Hamilton of Columbus, secretary, and Walter Morris of Warren, treasurer.

The association was formed to promote and support the school.

Extradition's Granted Escaped Slayer To Ohio

HELENA, Mont. (AP — Gov. J. Hugo Aronson has granted extradition of Delbert Wilt, an escaped murderer, to Ohio.

Wilt, 44, fled from London, Ohio, prison farm, in October, 1951.

He has been held in Bozeman jail since he was arrested by the FBI at Livingston Oct. 18. Authorities said Wilt had been working in the Livingston area for several months under the name of Daniel Coe.

Wilt was convicted of the May, 1935 hatchet slaying of elderly, half - blind Edward B. Thomas at the Thomas farm home in Ohio's Stark County. Mrs. Thomas also was slain, but Wilt never was tried on that charge.

He was convicted of first degree murder with a recommendation of mercy. He was admitted to Ohio Penitentiary in October, 1935 and later was transferred to the prison farm. Extradition was granted Friday.

Member Of IBOP Local Urges City Fund Parley

If the city government needs additional money to meet its obligations, the problem should be talked over in a general meeting of labor, business and church groups, along with other organizations and individuals, the correspondent of an IBOP local suggested today in the lead article in the Potters Herald, official union newspaper.

Signed by the correspondent of Warehouseman's Local 94, the article commented: "If the city needs money to operate in a solvent manner, why not call a general meeting of all citizens, business groups, labor unions, church groups, etc., and discuss the ways and means of meeting the issue?"

Such a meeting has been proposed unofficially in recent weeks since repeal of the city income tax at the Nov. 4 election. The rejection cost the city about $400,000 in annual revenue and threatens the lay - off of about 25 city employes, some of them part-time, at the beginning of 1959.

Soviet Expert Dies

MOSCOW (AP) — The death of Prof. Semyon Isaakovich Tetelbaum, 48, radio and electronics expert, was reported Friday in the newspaper Ukraine Pravda.

LEGAL NOTICE

PETITION IN PARTITION

STATE OF OHIO, COLUMBIANA COUNTY IN THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

CASE NO. 44810

Clinton Laughlin, Helen Laughlin, and John Lester Welch, their unknown executors, administrators, devisees, legatees, and assigns, will take due notice that Basil Mangano on the 22nd day of October, 1958, Basil Mangano filed his Petition in the Court of Common Pleas in Columbiana County, the same being Case Number 44810 in said Court, alleging that he has an undivided interest in the following described property; and that the aforesaid named Defendants have an undetermined interest in said described property:

Situated in the Township of St. Clair, County of Columbiana and State of Ohio;: Known as and being a part of Section 30, Township 6, Range 1, and more particularly described and bounded by commencing at the Southwest corner of Lot Number Two Hundred Twenty eight (228) in a plan of lots laid out by Martha B. Glenn and Frederick O. Glenn, as recorded in Plat Book 8, page 31 of the Records of plats in said County, and running thence with the continuation of the North line of Fourth Street in said plan of lots, West One Hundred eighty-six (186) feet to the place of beginning of the tract herein conveyed; thence further West three hundred fifty-one (351) feet to a point; thence South Four hundred seventeen (417) feet to a point; thence East seventy (70) feet to the center line of the Public Road; thence with said Center line North Forty-five degrees, eleven minutes East, (N. 45° 11' E.) Three hundred ninety-five (395) feet, be the same more or less to a point; thence North One hundred forty (140) feet to the place of beginning of the tract herein conveyed, containing in area 2.458 acres. Be the same more or less, but subject to all legal highways.

Plaintiff alleges that he has an undivided one-sixth (1-6) interest in said property; and that the heirs of Clinton Laughlin, Helen Laughlin, and John Lester Welch, all the remaining, as co-tenants, as the heirs of John E. and Daisy M. Welch.

The prayer of the Petition is for partition of said premises and Plaintiff's interest therein set off to him in severalty, or in the event said premises can not be sub-divided without manifest injury, thereto, the said real estate be sold, and the parties having interest therein be paid their respective proportionate share from the proceedings of such sale and for such other relief as may be just and equitable.

The said Petition will be for hearing on and after six weeks and one day following the first publication of this notice.

Basil Mangano
by his Attorney,
Andrew J. Coleman

$50,000 Awarded Foundry Worker In Death Of Wife

CHARDON, Ohio (AP)—A jury Friday night awarded a Ford Motor Co. foundry worker $50,000 on his complaint against Corey Memorial Hospital alleging negligence caused the death of his wife at the hospital in 1956.

Geauga County Common Pleas Court officials said the verdict was the first since a recent Ohio Supreme Court decision holding hospitals liable for employes' errors.

Involved was the death of Mrs. Benjamin B. Piotrowski, 22, of Troy, Geauga County, on Aug. 8, 1956, during a caesarian childbirth operation.

The hospital said the woman's death was due to a heart attack and pulmonary embolism (blood clotting that stopped breathing).

But the plaintiff testified that while his wife was under oxygen, the oxygen was negligently disconnected for 20 minutes.

Dr. Walter C. Corey, administrator of Corey Memorial Hospital, said the verdict would be appealed.

Snow Curbs Road Deaths

3 Friday Put Ohio Holiday Toll At 13

By The Associated Press

Ohio's Thanksgiving weekend fatality rate has been slowed almost to a standstill by a heavy snowstorm which covered the state with from 6 to 10 inches of snow.

While there were many fender-bending accidents Friday, traffic was slowed to a crawl, probably resulting in the saving of several lives, the Ohio Highway Patrol reported.

The fatality count, which started at 6 p.m. Wednesday, mounted to 13 traffic deaths by Friday morning—and stayed there the rest of the day.

With the rest of Saturday and all of Sunday to go, the Ohio Associated Press fatalities count for the long holiday period stood at 13 in traffic, two fire deaths, and two fatal hunting accidents.

Fatalities reported Friday were:

Mrs. Muriel Stahl, 33, Peninsula, when her car was struck by a Baltimore & Ohio passenger train at the Everett Road crossing just north of Akron.

Barbara Yoder, 9, Rt. 3, Minerva, when the auto in which she was riding overturned on the Greentown - Alliance Road near Massillon.

GOC Supervisor Asks Award Recipient List

SALINEVILLE — Mrs. Hazel Hart, acting supervisor of the Ground Observer Corps post, has requested all post members who have received GOC merit awards to notify her by Dec. 10.

With the disbanding of the national GOC, members are to receive lifetime membership cards in the Air Defense Command, she said.

Toledo Bus Fare Up

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Cash fares charged by Community Traction Co. will go up a penny to 21 cents on Dec. 14, the company announced Friday. Price of five tokens will be a dollar, and transfers one cent.

$50,000 Awarded Foundry Worker In Death Of Wife

CHARDON, Ohio (AP)—A jury Friday night awarded a Ford Motor Co. foundry worker $50,000 on his complaint against Corey Memorial Hospital alleging negligence caused the death of his wife at the hospital in 1956.

Geauga County Common Pleas Court officials said the verdict was the first since a recent Ohio Supreme Court decision holding hospitals liable for employes' errors.

Involved was the death of Mrs. Benjamin B. Piotrowski, 22, of Troy, Geauga County, on Aug. 8, 1956, during a caesarian childbirth operation.

The hospital said the woman's death was due to a heart attack and pulmonary embolism (blood clotting that stopped breathing).

But the plaintiff testified that while his wife was under oxygen, the oxygen was negligently disconnected for 20 minutes.

Snow Curbs Road Deaths

By The Associated Press

Ohio's Thanksgiving weekend fatality rate has been slowed almost to a standstill by a heavy snowstorm which covered the state with from 6 to 10 inches of snow.

While there were many fender-bending accidents Friday, traffic was slowed to a crawl, probably resulting in the saving of several lives, the Ohio Highway Patrol reported.

The fatality count, which started at 6 p.m. Wednesday, mounted to 13 traffic deaths by Friday morning—and stayed there the rest of the day.

With the rest of Saturday and all of Sunday to go, the Ohio Associated Press fatalities count for the long holiday period stood at 13 in traffic, two fire deaths, and two fatal hunting accidents.

Fatalities reported Friday were: Bernice Frisby, 18, Lorain, when the car in which she was riding left Lake Road one mile north of Elyria and struck a utility pole.

Mrs. Muriel Stahl, 33, Peninsula, when her car was struck by a Baltimore & Ohio passenger train at the Everett Road crossing just north of Akron.

Barbara Yoder, 9, Rt. 3, Minerva, when the auto in which she was riding overturned on the Greentown - Alliance Road near Massillon.

GOC Supervisor Asks Award Recipient List

SALINEVILLE — Mrs. Hazel Hart, acting supervisor of the Ground Observer Corps post, has requested all post members who have received GOC merit awards to notify her by Dec. 10.

With the disbanding of the national GOC, members are to receive lifetime membership cards in the Air Defense Command, she said.

Toledo Bus Fare Up

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Cash fares charged by Community Traction Co. will go up a penny to 21 cents on Dec. 14, the company announced Friday. Price of five tokens will be a dollar, and transfers one cent.
